Failure of Recent Three-Power Naval Conference at Geneva Causes Chancellor's Action.

VISCOUNT PLANS APPEAL TO NATION

Cecil Declares He Found Himself Out of Sympathy With Instructions Received From Cabinet.

London, August 29.—(United News.)—Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, in a letter to Premier Baldwin resigning from the cabinet, tonight declared the government's entire disarmament policy and plainly indicated his belief that this policy caused failure of the recent three-power naval conference at Geneva.

Cecil added that "hope for the future lies in an aroused and instructed public opinion—revealing his intention to tell the country what he believes is the right policy."

Baldwin, in a letter regretfully accepting the resignation, added that the government was not to blame for the failure at Geneva, and declared that he still had hope the conference might result in lowering armaments.

Causes Sensation.
Though Cecil's resignation as chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster had been forecast, and was expected, the manner in which it was made has caused a sensation.

He is one of the fathers of the League of Nations, known by everyone who knows the league as a peace advocate.

In his letter of resignation he could find no good word to say regarding the government's general disarmament policy.

"I cannot conceal from myself," he said, "that on the broad policy of disarmament, the majority of the cabinet and I are not really agreed."

He complained that at the general land disarmament preparatory conference last spring his instructions from the government were "of a disquieting nature."

"I repeatedly my instructions," he said, "compelled me to maintain propositions which were difficult to reconcile with my serious desire for success."

Accepted Post.
Despite this fact, Cecil continued, he accepted the post of chief British political delegate to the British-American-Japanese conference.

Regarding this conference, he said: "Its failure would necessarily be disastrous to us, as it would be to the success of the world."

"But I did not contemplate failure," he said. "Unfortunately failure followed, and the cause of the failure may be probed when parliament meets."

"It is enough now to say that I found myself out of sympathy with the instructions I received, and that I believe agreement might have been reached on terms which would have sacrificed no essential British interest."

Cecil cited other disarmament and arbitration conferences that had failed.

"In each case," he commented, "the policy I advocated has been more or less overruled."

"As in the past, so will it be in the future; for to the moment these matters my colleagues do not agree with me and I can see no way in which I can be of further service."

Aroused Public Opinion.
To his statement that hope for the future lay in an "aroused and instructed public opinion," Cecil added: "That is an object which may employ all of the energies that remain to me."

Baldwin refused to accept responsibility for the cruiser conference failure.

"I can take no blame for it," he said, "either on myself or on my colleagues; for to the moment the conference ended were still working for the twin objects of limitation of armaments and the national security which the conference was summoned to achieve."

"As to the future I refuse to share your pessimism."

It has been said recently that "die hards" had wrested control in the cabinet after a long fight, and that to this fact was due the general hardening in British policy, shown principally in the recent breaking off of relations with Russia.

$10,453,987 PAID GEORGIA TOBACCO GROWERS THIS YEAR

All Records for Amount Paid and Poundage Grown in State Have Been Broken.

With the close of the tobacco sales at the markets in Georgia Monday morning showed that $10,453,987 had been paid for 49,369,268 pounds of tobacco during any one season.

A compilation of the season's sales shows that $1,841,048 pounds of tobacco have been sold for a total of $10,453,987.53.

The official report issued Monday by the Georgia cooperative reporting service showed that $9,915,042.79 had been paid for 40,369,268 pounds during the four weeks the markets have operated from August 3, including last Friday.

Monday's sales, as reported by The Associated Press, were 2,481,048 pounds sold for $338,945.74, and these figures added to the four weeks' sales gives the grand total.

This is the first time in the history of tobacco growing in Georgia that the sales have exceeded fifty million pounds or sold for $10,000,000.

Last year's total crop of 40,000,000 pounds sold for $9,500,000 and in 1925 a total of $7,110,000 was paid for 50,000,000 pounds.

With the 1927 season nearing the close it is evident that this year's crop may bring close to $11,000,000.

SEASON FAST WAVING AT MARKETS.
Macon, Ga., August 29.—(United News.)—The Georgia tobacco season is fast waving and with the end of this week the majority of the markets will have concluded their sales.

Sales of the golden weed on the markets today were under with the exception of transfers made on the markets at Nashville, Douglas, Black shear, Vidalia, Valdosta and Moultrie.

All the other markets' sales ranged well under a hundred thousand pounds.

Vidalia led the state for the highest poundage being sold with 512,000 pounds changing hands at an average price of 22.60, which was the third highest average price for the day.

Fitzgerald paid the highest price with 54,433 pounds of the weed bringing $11,797.34 or an average price of 25.35 cents a pound.

A number of the markets have announced their closing with the end of this week and the tobacco season in all the markets will be closed by September 8.

A tabulation of sales on the individual markets are as follows:

TOWN	Sales Lb.	Price	Per Ct.
Baldwin	50,000	$2,000.00	20.00
Bainbridge	25,000	1,000.00	20.00

Vice President Issues Orders That Name Is Not To Be Offered in State Primaries.

FORBIDS CANVASS FOR DELEGATES

Nevertheless, Dawes and Hoover Still Are Considered Most Available Candidates for Office.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.
(Copyright, 1927, by United News.)
Washington, August 29.—Charles G. Dawes has ordered a quietus put on the campaign for the republican presidential nomination which was about to be started in his behalf.

He has refused to permit his name to go into any of the presidential primaries and will sanction no canvass for delegates. This word is brought back by intimates who conferred with Dawes in Evanston, Ill., last week.

They outline the situation as follows: Dawes is extremely happy in the vice presidency as it involves little strain or responsibility. He has led a busy life and as he is sixty-two years old Saturday he has no burning desire to plunge into the strenuous, wearing life of a presidential candidate and positively will not sponsor any organized fight for it. Yet he would accept the nomination if drafted.

So it appears that the man who, as vice president, has made more noise than all of his predecessors combined is going to be extremely quiet as a presidential possibility. Nevertheless, most politicians place him alongside Hoover as among the likeliest republicans.

Hopes of Friends.
Friends of Dawes who want to see him nominated in face of his unwillingness to get into the fight for delegates hope to build up second choice strength for him. They expect Hoover to go into the convention with many of the Coolidge organization men behind him. Lowden will go in with another large bloc. Favorite sons will hold among them another large bloc.

The strategy of the pro-Dawes group will be to avoid antagonizing any of these groups in the convention fight and then to elect him vice president in event of a deadlock and a back-room conference among the managers of the various candidates.

They put Dawes in the vice presidency in 1924 by that strategy in face of Coolidge opposition. They expect to do it again if the convention is undivided.

According to friends of Dawes there will be no canvass. But as occasion offers efforts will be made to sell the vice president as a second choice to delegates pledged to other candidates. It is the same strategy Daugherty used in nominating Harding in 1920.

Several candidates have been nominated by using rubber heels and Maxim silencers than hob-nails and megaphones. This course also avoids completely the delicate situation in Illinois.

Held Qualified.
Friends of Dawes regard him as the most qualified compromise candidate. His standing as a banker and business man should appeal to the business element behind Hoover, they say. His sympathy with liberal farm relief should appeal to the Lowden following. He was a brigadier general and will address the American Legion sailing on the Leviathan September 10. His work in establishing the federal budget system demonstrates his ability as a public administrator, his friends believe.

Attack on Townsend.
In today's testimony, the state made its first attempt to place Townsend at the scene of the murder, except for the previous testimony that a man's footprint found at the scene of murder seemed to be of the same size and shape as the foot of the former deputy. T. F. Coleman, a medical student, told of seeing a man, "larger than the average" walking away from the front of the Willis home where a woman was killed, just after he had heard the sound of the shots that killed the officer, but he could not be positive whether it was a white man or a negro. Later, a corner John L. Parks, recalled as a witness, described Townsend's manner of walking as "loose and swingy" and E. L. Craig, Willis' deputy, who also had previously been on the stand, said the defendant took long steps and swung his hands in walking.

Coleman and Miss Grace Williams, department store employee, who roomed in the Willis home, were called upon to give evidence by which the prosecution indicated it would seek to prove Mrs. Willis had time to call for a doctor.

STATE PREPARES TO CLOSE TODAY IN WILLIS CASE

Defense Intimates It Will Defend Affectionate Relations of Co-Defendants, Stressed by State.

Greenville, S. C., August 29.—(United News.)—Alleged relations of Mrs. Ethel Willis and Henry Townsend before and after the midnight slaying of the former's husband, Sheriff Sam D. Willis, was related with a wealth of detail today as the state presented 18 more witnesses in its effort to convict the widow and the former deputy of the officer's murder.

Just before court recessed at 6 o'clock, Judge Mendel L. Smith, of the prosecution staff, indicated the state might rest its case, which began Thursday, tomorrow. Colonel Alvin H. Dean, chief defense counsel, elicited the statement when he sought to find out when he called the defense witness, of whom he said there were 30 to 60.

Widow Is Upset.
The 31-year-old widow, appeared upset as neighbors and others who testified to being in the Willis' home early on the morning of Sunday, June 12, just after the sheriff was shot down at his garage door, told of seeing her and her co-defendant together in her bedroom and of seeing them constantly in each other's company.

Townsend continued to appear unflinching, although he showed interest in every word, leaning forward and cupping his hands around his ears as the various witnesses testified to the events leading up to the courtroom proceedings.

By its quizzing of the state's witnesses, the defense indicated it would contend that the affectionate relations between Mr. Willis and Townsend were a natural result of the long and devoted friendship of her husband for his war buddy and peace-time chum.

Several witnesses were asked if they did not think it perfectly natural for the bereaved widow to turn to her husband's friends in her time of distress.

Attack on Townsend.

Lieutenant of Woodward Believed Slayer of Woman Found Dead With Him in Auto in Detroit.

BUNCO SUSPECT VICTIM OF FEAR

Wanted Here Since 1922 for Connection With "Million Dollar Bunco Ring" Activities.

Hunted for seven years by the police of a nation, trapped by superstitious fears of his accomplices, crazed by drugs and haunted by the phantoms of his past, Mark Tillery, lieutenant of Floyd Woodward, has taken his own life and that of a woman supposed to be his wife, according to word received here from Detroit Monday.

Tillery's body was found last week in an automobile in a downtown alley with that of a woman. Both had died of bullet wounds. The body which was originally identified as that of L. M. McCall, is now known to be that of Tillery. To prevent possibility of error, fingerprints and Bertillon measurements were forwarded Monday by Solicitor Boykin's office, on request of the Detroit police.

His death, Detroit police assert, was the direct outcome of a huge gambling feud existing there for the past year, in which Tillery is believed to have taken a leading part. The vendetta which arose from the alleged dragging of race horses at the Windsor track has claimed six lives since its inception. One of the ring is accused of having informed officials of the plot and in the future of suspicion created among the gamblers, Tillery was said to have been thought guilty of the underworld's own unforgivable sin.

Having seen the fate of others, fear is believed to have seized him and prompted his suicide—his successful effort to forestall the fate of the others.

Oscar Bacon and Andrew Potts, arrested after the finding of the bodies, and questioned by police Monday, are both said to be connected with the gambling ring. They stated that they had tried to prevent the double tragedy but that both were shot in the process. A third man who ran from the scene of the shooting is said by Bacon and Potts to have removed the bodies and placed them in a car for hiding, fearing that the gamblers would be accused of complicity in Tillery's death. He is being sought by the police.

Tillery has been sought on two continents for the past several years since his indictment in 1922, with more than a score of others for activities in the alleged million dollar bunco ring which maintained headquarters in Atlanta and fleeced victims of thousands throughout the south. Although arrested several times in various places, Tillery has always secured freedom by posting a heavy bond and "skipping."

Most assiduous on his trail was Bert Donaldson, investigator for Solicitor General Boykin's office, who was murdered in a fashionable hotel in July, 1926. Attaches of the Undertaker Denies He Is Holding Ashes of Sacco and Vanzetti Until His Bill Is Paid.

Boston, August 29.—(United News.)—Miss Mary Donovan, secretary of the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee, was declared guilty in municipal court today of "obstructing foot traffic, inciting to riot and circulating anarchistic literature," and given a total sentence of one year in jail and a $10 fine. She appealed and was released on $1,100 bail.

The charges were pressed by police who arrested Miss Donovan in front of Joseph A. Langone's undertaking establishment where the bodies of Sacco and Vanzetti lay in state. In court today, Sergeant Thomas Casey asserted that Miss Donovan exhibited three inflammatory placards and resisted arrest.

Didn't Show Cards Publicly.
In her own defense, Miss Donovan denied the charges and said that she was not showing the cards publicly, but was returning with them to the defense headquarters after the refusal of Langone to allow them in a picture snapped by newspaper photographers.

Her testimony was supported by Gardner Jackson, chairman of the defense committee, Edith Jackson, his sister, and a newspaper man. The reporter said Miss Donovan was showing the placards to him and that they were held in such a position that it was impossible for anyone to see what they said without looking over his shoulder. He denied that traffic was interfered with.

Before trial, Sergeant Casey and Sergeant Robert Mooney attempted to have Miss Donovan agree to plead guilty.

MEXICO TO FREE AMERICAN FLIERS AND KEEP PLANE

Authorities Say Airmen, Who Were Forced Down, Are at Liberty To Return to U. S.

San Antonio, Texas, August 29.—(United News.)—Captain C. H. Reynolds and Sergeant Gus Newland, army aviators, who were forced to land in Mexico today, are free to return to the United States but their plane was held tonight by Mexican authorities, it was announced at eighth corps headquarters here.

Officials who said they had received this information were endeavoring to secure a more detailed account concerning the landing from Camp Maria, Texas, which is 58 miles north of Presidio de Vada de Piedras, Coahuila, where the fliers were forced down.

The fliers made a forced landing on Mexican soil while returning to San Antonio from Phoenix, Ariz., where they assisted in the futile search for Alfred Z. Menard, war veteran, who disappeared ten days ago.

Consul General A. P. Carrillo took the case up with the Mexican minister of foreign affairs at the request of army authorities but late tonight had received no answer to his communication.

News of Capture.
News of their capture came from Colonel C. F. Hubcock, who telegraphed friends of Reynolds here that the fliers had been forced down and captured near Ruidoso.

Although advices from Washington said no word of the incident had reached army or state department officials there, Consul General Alejandro P. Carrillo, of Mexico, telegraphed his government from San Antonio a request that the men be located and released. They are believed to be held at Valde de Piedra, Mexico.

Plane Not Damaged.
Colonel Hubcock's message said the airplane had not been damaged and that he was trying to arrange for the men to be brought to Ojinaga, on the border, and released. No other details could be learned here.

Colonel J. C. McArthur, of the second division, took the matter up with Consul General Carrillo as soon as it came to his attention. Advices from Washington said that even if the men were prisoners in Mexico, the event was not unusual, since flight between the two countries are made only by special permission. Aviators forced to land beyond their own lines are usually taken into custody as it is a formality until the landing is investigated.

FEDERAL TROOPS REACH MINE ZONE.
Mexico City, August 29.—(United News.)—The Mexican army today announced that federal troops have arrived at the Atlatlan mining district with instructions to take full possession to lives and properties while the labor conflict is being settled through the usual channels. The miners at a number of camps in the region are on strike, and several days ago the American-owned Amparo mine, near Guadalajara, was seized by radicals.

Streator Youth, Charged With Matricide, Believed Innocent of Murder by His Physician Daddy.

Streator, Ill., August 29.—(United News.)—Breaking his silence for the first time since the body of his estranged wife, Eliza Hill, was found buried in the cellar of her home here, Dr. H. C. Hill, of Streator, issued a formal statement today in which he said that he was confident that his son, Harry, did not slay his mother.

The 22-year-old youth, who has been charged in a warrant with causing the death of his mother, is the object of a nation-wide search.

Mrs. Hill's body was found last Monday.

"Harry is my boy and I do not believe he is guilty of murder," Dr. Hill's statement said. "If he is in any way responsible for causing his mother's death, it must have been an act of a panic-stricken youth."

Dr. Hill further said that "I will do what any father would do—stand by my boy and aid him in proving his innocence."

Although Dr. Hill admitted that the youth committed several forgeries in his mother's name to pay off gambling debts here, he scouted the police theory that his son killed his mother for financial reasons.

Report That Airplane Heard Over Orinoco River Might Be Georgian's Is Unconfirmed.

Washington, August 29.—(United News.)—Coast guard headquarters late today instructed Commander P. W. Lauriat, chief of the Florida east coast patrol area, to "render such assistance as you deem practicable" in searching for Paul Redfern, missing aviator who attempted a non-stop flight from Brunswick, Ga., to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Paul Varner, at Brunswick, chairman of the Redfern flight committee, had requested the coast guard and navy today to aid in search for the aviator. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Varner expressed belief that the navy could not aid in the search.

Varner, coast guard headquarters said, asked aid in searching waters from Brunswick to the Bahama Islands, the route Redfern followed, on the possibility that he went down in this area.

Coast guard officials advised Commander Lauriat to "confer with Mr. Varner and others as you deem expedient."

The Florida east coast patrol chief is believed now to be at Savannah, on his flagship, the cutter Yamacraw. There are about 15 vessels in the district commanded by Lauriat, which could be equipped for a lengthy search, it is said.

APPEAL IS MADE TO LATIN COUNTRIES.
Brunswick, Ga., August 29.—(United News.)—Hope grasping at every straw tonight maintained the faith of the wife and friends of Paul R. Redfern that the young aviator had not paid with his life for the adventurous attempt to make a non-stop flight to Brazil.

With no definite news since the monoplane "Port of Brunswick" hopped off Glynn Isle beach last Thursday and with only two reports of airplanes along Redfern's projected route an appeal was made to government agencies and to South American countries to begin a search along the 4,600-mile course.

Caracas Report.
The report today from Caracas, Venezuela, that an airplane had been sighted over the delta of the Orinoco river by a militiaman brought renewal of hope, but the message was too indefinite to bring any assurance that Redfern had safely reached the South American mainland. On the other hand the possibility that the monoplane may have reached South America was increased by advices from the Washington weather bureau that it had been unable to verify any reports of storms along the route from Brunswick to Trinidad.

Robert Moore, a seaplane pilot, reported in Miami Saturday that a severe tropical storm swept near Great Abaco island in the Bahamas, which was slightly to the westward of Redfern's route. It had been feared that

HUNT WILL TRIAL OPENS AT GAINESVILLE

Gainesville, Ga., August 29.—(Special.)—The largest throng that ever attended a civil lawsuit in Hall county filled the courthouse for several hours today while eight lawyers fought the preliminary rounds of the Mrs. Aurora Hunt will case. When adjournment was taken at 6 o'clock neither side appeared to have scored any decisive point.

Mrs. Hunt, who died a few months ago, left an estate of more than a half million dollars and the University of Georgia and Brenau college were large beneficiaries. Three relatives of Mrs. Hunt are contesting the will on grounds that she was unduly influenced and was mentally incapable at the time she signed the will.

The entire day was spent in legal sparring and citing of precedents to decide which side will have the advantage of opening and closing the arguments. The case is expected to last several days.

SENATOR WINSHIP DIES AT MACON

Macon, Ga., August 29.—(AP)—State Senator Nat R. Winship, 71, died at his home here this morning after a prolonged illness. Mr. Winship was one of the best-known citizens of central Georgia and a pioneer resident of Macon.

SENATOR NAT R. WINSHIP.

Heart trouble was the cause of Mr. Winship's death. He had been ill about a year and had been confined to his home for months.

Funeral services will take place from the home here Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock and the interment will be in Roschill cemetery here. Mr. Winship is a native of Georgia, having lived here all his life. He was born in Atlanta, July 16, 1856.

His father was Isaac Winship and his mother was Martha Pearson Cook, daughter of Major Philip and Anna Wooten Cook.

Mrs. Winship, "Uncle Nat's" mother, was the first white child born in Macon, having been born in 1813, at Fort Hawkins on the original site of Macon, now known as East Macon. She was of a very prominent family in this state.

Isaac Winship, father of "Uncle Nat," was a soldier in the war between the states. After the war he opened a foundry in Atlanta. He later moved to Macon and with a native of Massachusetts opened a manufactory.

NATIONAL GUARD TO OBTAIN NEW TYPE AIRPLANES

Construction of new airplanes specially designed for national guard air squadrons and embodying the latest approved developments in aeronautics is indicated by announcement of winners in the competition on airplane design, reports at the fourth corps area headquarters revealed here Monday.

Officers of the national guard squadrons throughout the United States await receipt of the new planes with enthusiasm for an increase in the scope of their training programs, the report stated. Requirements for which designs were submitted in the national competition call for a light-powered two-seater of an all-around, all-purpose type of plane that can be used by the national guard squadrons in flying training, in fixed gunnery training, in flexible gunnery training for an observer in radio and photographic training and for cross-country flying. Motor power will be furnished by the Wright J-5 motor, which has received so much success in the recent trans-Atlantic flights.

Winners in the competition are the Douglas Airplane company, of Santa Monica, Calif.; Keystone Aircraft company, of Bristol, Pa., and the Curtiss Airplane and Motor company, of Garden City, L. I.

In the eight states composing the fourth corps area there are two divisions, each containing an air squadron. Flying officers from Georgia make up a portion of one of these squadrons.

The Right Breakfast for Workers

Eat Food that Supplies
"Balanced" Ration After Night's Fast

If you feel tired, hungry, "fidgety" hours before lunch, don't jump to the conclusion of poor health. Thousands have unenergetic mornings because they start days with breakfasts lacking in certain food elements.

To feel right, you must have a well-balanced, complete breakfast ration. At most other meals—lunch and dinner—you get it. But breakfast is a hurried meal, often badly chosen.

Thus Quaker Oats, containing 16% protein, food's great tissue builder, 65% carbohydrate, its great energy element, plus all-important vitamins and the "bulk" that makes laxatives seldom needed, is the dietetic urge of the world today.

It is food that "stands by" you through the morning. Get Quaker Oats today. Grocers have two kinds: Quick Quaker, which cooks in 2½ to 3 minutes, and Quaker Oats.

WE feel we have eliminated the feature which makes the average person fight shy of the average bank. There is none of the attitude here that you are simply a customer, one of a throng, someone to be "handled."

When you become a Fulton depositor, you also become a Friend of Fulton, and we try to make you realize that we are glad to have you with us, and that your affairs, large or small, are important enough to warrant our full attention, our most expert advice and service.

It is evident that Atlantans appreciate service of that sort, for they come to us in steadily increasing numbers. Expert, but human, friendly banking service has made Fulton National the fastest growing bank in Atlanta.

Your affairs will be competently cared for here, whether you have much or little. Come in and let us tell you of our complete banking service.

THE CHARTER AMENDMENTS.

The governor has signed the bill amending the city charter of Atlanta, and thereby, when its provisions go into effect at a date not later than January 15, next, the citizens of the city will be saved an estimated sum of $750,000 a year in water rates alone. Aside from this the departments of the city are thus put on notice that they cannot exceed their budgets and fall back upon the water levy to cover the deficits.

For this very excellent piece of legislation Judge Ernest C. Kontz is due special credit. He was not only the author of the amendment, but of the preliminaries looking to its enactment. His services were almost constantly given to the measure during its course in the general assembly.

The amendment provides specifically that the charge for water shall at no time be higher than the rate in force September 1, 1926. That means a flat 50 per cent reduction of the rates now in existence, the advance having been made to meet the overdraft of the school board. It provides that at no time shall an increase in the rate be made to meet a deficiency in any department of city government excepting only a temporary deficiency in the water department caused by any emergency.

Another provision of the amendment which is gratifying is that forbidding the sale or disposal in any way and for any purpose of the city parks. It provides that any member of council negotiating or voting for farming any one of the parks out, in whole or in part, shall be subject to impeachment.

Judge Kontz drew this provision of the amendment also and secured its adoption by council. It was enacted as originally drawn except that Councilman John A. White very wisely added "all city parks" whereas the original draft only stipulated Grant and Piedmont. The Fulton delegation, in the house, very properly added the exception to the water provision which may permit of a temporary rate increase only to meet an emergency in the water department.

The amendment is one of the most constructive pieces of legislation, affecting Atlanta and her citizens, passed by the 1927 assembly, and the Fulton delegation is to be commended for the unity of spirit and action that made its enactment possible.

Water should be provided the people of Atlanta and suburbs at actual cost. The water department should carry its own expenses, including the carrying charges on bonds, the maintenance and upkeep of mains, etc. It should not seek, however, to make any profit, and it should not be used as a vehicle to raise additional revenues.

In safeguarding the city's parks, which are all too few, the amendment has preserved and protected the city's lungs, which are so essential to the health and the comfort of all, and especially of children.

THE FORESTRY LEGISLATION.

On this page is a communication from Secretary Stone, of the Georgia Forestry association, reviewing the net results of legislative enactments affecting the forestry code.

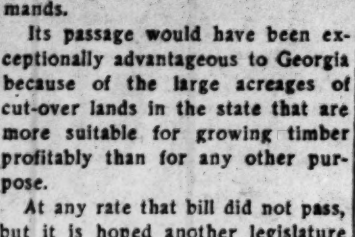

On the whole these results are satisfactory and gratifying. It is unfortunate that the forestry contract act was not enacted. It would undoubtedly have passed both houses by overwhelming votes had it been given the opportunity. It was caught in the jam and was thereby sacrificed, as was much other desirable proposed legislation.

This proposed act, which has been passed in a great many states, and has the hearty indorsement of the United States bureau of forestry, and of the American Tree association, merely provides for the stabilization of taxes on lands in which a young forest is to be planted, this stabilization to continue until the maturity of the forest.

It is intended to encourage re-

SHOULD BE DEPORTED.

Freedom of speech and of assembly, which are guaranteed by the constitution, does not give license to such inflammatory remarks against the institutions of government, and the integrity of the law, as that indulged in at the Boston ceremonies attending the cremation of the bodies of Sacco and Vanzetti.

A woman anarchist, a Miss Donovan, is quoted as having said: "Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, you came to America seeking freedom. In the strong idealism of youth you came as workers searching for that liberty and equality of opportunity heralded as the particular gift of this country to all newcomers. You centered your labors in Massachusetts, the very birthplace of American ideals. And now Massachusetts and America have killed you murdered you because you were anarchists."

No person should be permitted to incite a great crowd of alien reds into determinations of revenge by such intemperate language, and in this case directed specifically against government itself.

The truth is the statement is wholly false. In all of the trials of the two convicted murderers the fact that they were anarchists was not placed before the jury. In all of the reviews of the case, by judges, and by the governor's committee, and by the governor himself, the matter of innocence or guilt of the pay-roll murder was the only issue involved.

The female red is quoted further as saying:

"Your long years of torture and your last hours of supreme agony are the living banner under which we and our descendants for generations to come will march to accomplish that better world based on the brotherhood of man for which you died. In your martyrdom we will fight on and conquer."

Thus does the radical thought in this country capitalize the execution of these two alien murderers to stimulate the spirit of communism that unfortunately is much stronger than one had reason to believe prior to the recent demonstrations in the alien centers.

In the south, especially in the southeast, there is but little if any communism, due to the overwhelming predominance of the Anglo-Saxon blood. There are but few aliens. Most of the foreign born in the south are not only nationalized but are good, loyal American citizens.

But in other sections of the country the reds are strong, and the responsibility is up to the government. Such language as that indulged in by Miss Donovan is more inflammatory than anything ever said by Emma Goldman, and she was deported.

NAT R. WINSHIP.

The death of his home in Macon of State Senator Nat R. Winship causes general sorrow throughout the state, for he was widely known and loved by all who knew him. He had served in the assembly for six years though during his term as senator he was too ill to make the trip to the capital. He took the oath of office at his Macon home on July 15, his 71st birthday. He was up at the time and in his usual jovial humor, though the members who visited him at the time realized that the end was near.

"Uncle Nat," as he was affectionately known by thousands of his fellow citizens, was truly a man's man. He loved friends and had them because he held them when he made them. He was one of the most companionable of men, and during his service in the assembly it was seldom that he did not have a group of his colleagues about him. They enjoyed him as he enjoyed them.

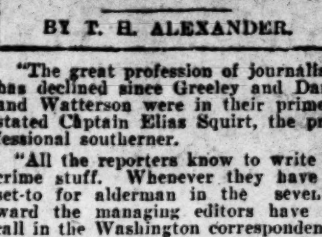

He had been successful as a business man, and was a leader in the civic affairs of his home city. He was a kind and gentle husband and father and one of Macon's most useful and worthy citizens, and one of the state's soundest and most dependable lawmakers.

JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS, Creator in The Constitution of a New American Classic.

BY T. B. ALEXANDER.

The great profession of journalism has followed since Greeley, Dana, and Watterson were in their prime, stated Captain Elias Squire, the professional southerner.

"All reporters know to write in crime stuff. Whenever they have a set-to for alderman in the seventh ward the managing editors have to call in the Washington correspondents to write it because the new crop don't know politics from Adam's off-ox. They can't name the congressional delegation from the state but they can tell you the names of all the parsons in the latest trunk murder mystery."

"They can't tell you what the fellow said when nominating James G. Blaine for president," continued Captain Squire as he warmed to his subject. "But the reporters can all tell you what the payroll bandits said when caught with the loot while escaping in a high-powered car."

"Oh, we still have David Lawrence," I suggested, but the old fellow snorted.

"To come down to cases," I said, "there are more good newspaper men than ever before, even if Heywood Brown has left the fourth estate flat on its back."

"One can find out fairly well what's happening in Washington by reading Charlie Michelson of the New York World, Fred Easton of the Boston Herald, and a hundred others. The late Bob Small was a genius of first water. The press associations also maintain a pretty good record."

"Southern cities generally have newspaper people who are keen. Atlanta has a cadre of the tribe. There's a girl in Chattanooga, Nellie Kenyon, who can dig up more news and write it better than any girl reporter I ever saw. Memphis has more good police and political reporters than any city in the world—Ed Moorey used to say that Tom Fauntleroy could literally 'smell' a political scandal in Memphis from the air. And in the latter city Anne Rankin can put more beauty on paper than any writer I read after except Don John, the Irishman. Down here in Reece Ams, the first reporter to bring the news of the hurricane to the outside world last September, the South has furnished Irving Cobb, Grant Rice and a hundred others of the big leagues. Why in Little Rock one time, I remember—"

Captain Squire is always reticent whenever anyone else monopolizes the conversation. "Looky here," he interrupted. "I don't cast no aspersions on none of you named, but I'll lay you a box of cheroots that I can get a fair to middling reporter, ask him to re-write some Bible stories in a Greek newspaper style, and when you see his earnest efforts you'll agree that the art of writing has deteriorated since Moses said his pen in his hand was as good as a pen in his hand. ## SENATOR TO URGE SPECIAL SESSION

By LEON KINSLEY.
(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Rapid City, S. D., August 29.—(Special.)—Senator-elect Smith, of Illinois, and Senator-elect Vane, of Pennsylvania, called for a special session of the United States Senate in October. Senator-elect Smith, of Illinois, called for a special session of the Senate in October. Senator-elect Vane, of Pennsylvania, called for a special session of the Senate in October.

The pressure of business makes necessary the special session, in order that legislation will not be jammed, Senator Jones will tell the president. He said that in his state political leanings now are toward Secretary Hoover for the republican nomination for president. The president, home in the Black Hills summer white house again after a week's effort at a vacation, found that the Senate had begun for other today. On his way into the executive office he stopped to watch the opening of a little white school house on the prairie.

The president had an accumulation of mail on his desk today and saw a number of visitors. One of his callers was Congressman Walter Newton, of Minnesota, accompanied by W. R. Pearson, railroad man. He talked with the president on the opening of the Mississippi harbor last Thursday. The president has shown a good deal of interest in the extension of the inland waterways and heard the details of the first trip of the freight barges.

Mr. Newton, speaking of the political situation in his state, after he had seen the president, said that at present sentiment for Secretary Hoover as the successor to the president seemed to be on the increase. Former Governor Lowden was still strong among the agricultural leaders, he said, and Vice President Dawes is popular in the state.

Five Minutes Elapse.

The medical student said it was about five minutes after he heard the last of the five shots before he heard a woman scream in terror or anguish. Miss Williams testified that Mrs. Williams came to her room, saying she believed Sam had been shot, about five minutes after the witness heard the last shot in the yard.

When tested by James H. Price, defense attorney, as to her ability to estimate five minutes, the court:

AM SLAIN; WIFE IS SOUGHT

Washington, August 29.—(P)—Contributions of the federal government to Tennessee, North Carolina, Louisiana and Montana are to be held up as a result of the ruling by the comptroller general that a state which has not paid its obligations to the government in full cannot receive its share of federal aid funds.

The three southern states owe approximately $633,000 to the federal government on "Indian bonds" held as security for funds lent to them for defense in the Indian wars. Montana's obligation, which has been reduced from $47,000 to approximately $20,000 arises from federal service in fighting fires.

The principal items of federal aid affected are those for road building. It was said at the bureau of public roads that the following sums were to be given during the current fiscal year.

North Carolina, $1,713,356; Louisiana, $1,013,308; Tennessee, $1,414,768; and Montana, $1,551,490.

While federal assistance in child welfare and maternity work will be somewhat hampered by the ruling, it was not known at the interior department whether it would stop payment of $50,000 annually to land grants in the four states.

The comptroller's ruling specifically prohibited payment of a $6,000 contribution to maternity and child welfare in the following states: Louisiana, North Carolina, Tennessee and Montana.

It was predicted in some quarters that the ruling would be asked by members from the states affected to clarify their rights.

4 BABY BURNED IN YACHT BLAST OVER 'BARTEENDER'

Sydney, N. S., August 29.—(P)—The charred hull of the yacht Maraval lay today to a wharf here today and four persons were recovered from the wreckage, including a baby, after an explosion, followed by fire, interrupted the start of the craft for Labrador with supplies and crew members for the Grenfell mission.

Byron N. Sellers, second engineer, of Somerville, Mass., was the most seriously injured. He suffered serious burns on the back, right arm and face. Miss Harriet Houghtaling, Winnetka, Ill., en route to join the Grenfell mission, was burned on the arm and left arm. Miss Margaret Pierce, Haverford, Pa., another mission worker, was singed on the face and head. Mark Stone, steward, Rockland, Maine, suffered severe burns and injury to his left arm.

The explosion, believed to have been caused by a backfire communicating to the engine room, occurred shortly after 7 a. m. when the yacht was warping out of her berth to begin the voyage to the mission headquarters.

The yacht, which was owned by the Grenfell mission, was carrying a full crew of 12 persons, including a baby, and a full cargo of supplies and equipment.

City firemen and sailors from H. M. S. Heliotrope rescued the crew and passengers of the Maraval and extinguished the fire. The superstructure was burned away and the cabins were badly damaged by the flames.

Maraval, an 81-foot craft with two 50-horsepower engines, was formerly owned by Miss Susan Bliss, of New York. It was overhauled recently and refitted to carry a full crew of 12 persons, including a baby, and a full cargo of supplies and equipment.

The yacht was chartered by the Grenfell mission, which is headed by Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell in Labrador. It was to serve as a supply ship and visiting hospital along the coast.

WORLD AVIATORS OFF FOR TURKEY

The round-the-world flight, "The Pride of Detroit" reached Munich from the Crofton airfield at 4:05 o'clock this afternoon.

The flying men were in fine spirits and reported a satisfactory voyage, particularly so after the adventure flight over the Atlantic ocean. Leaving London shortly after 5 o'clock in the morning, "The Pride of Detroit" flew before a favorable wind, but over Germany a sudden violent east wind arose which retarded their speed. Their arrival at Munich, therefore, was somewhat delayed.

Enthusiastic Welcome.

The welcome extended to the air men was most enthusiastic. After the manner in which Chamberlain and Levine had been treated in various German cities, Breck and Schell, who accompanied them, were given a large stein of Munich beer as they stepped on land.

Beyond accepting the hospitality of the German people, the aviators were met by Charles B. Curtis, the American consul, who gave dinner in their honor tonight. They seemed more concerned about the next lap which will be to Constantinople.

12 Hours for Trip.

It is estimated that 12 hours will suffice for this flight. In the meantime, the aviators intend to get as much sleep as possible, for they have not yet made up on what they missed while confining over the sea. They hope to complete their journey at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Numerous Bavarians followed the example of Londoners and inscribed their names on the tail of the airplane. They were permitted to do this, but no "souvenirs" were allowed. Many telegrams awaited the fliers, among them one from Lieutenant Otto Koenneke, at Cologne; Herr Koch, minister of communications; and the Detroit Abend Post and Harmonie society.

WORLD ALTITUDE MARK FOR LIGHT PLANE IS MADE

London, August 29.—(P)—Captain H. S. Broad made a world's altitude record for a single-seater light airplane when a Tiger Moth day after yesterday he climbed 20,000 feet. He reached this height in 17 minutes, but was compelled to descend owing to the difficulty in breathing. Captain Broad said that with oxygen he could have gone much higher, possibly 30,000 feet.

SPALDING PAVES HIGH FALLS ROAD

Griffin, Ga., August 29.—(Special.)—The Griffin-High Falls road has just been opened after work was completed on a new stretch of paving two miles long. This paving has just been completed at an approximate cost of $25,000.

The road was built by the Spalding county chancery, and is one of the best paved sections in the county. There is now a stretch of four miles paved on this road out from Griffin.

LEPER EARLY BEGS LEAVE TO DIE IN CAROLIAN HILLS

Tryon, N. C., August 29.—(P)—A weary, aging man stood among the hills he loved yesterday and pleaded in vain with those who had come to take him away.

He was John Early, leper, asking that he be let alone and allowed to stay his few remaining years in the mountains which nurtured him in his youth. And nine federal and county officers, who had come to get him to return to the leprosarium in Louisiana, were held well nigh speechless for nearly an hour by the power of his appeal.

Today Early was speeding southward on a train while Tryon breathed easy and his kin were laying plans to appeal to the court and health service to let them make home to keep him near them, but away from society. But standing countless yesterday under a bright afternoon sun which brought the perspiration to his brow, at the very summit of one of the cliffs which had given him strength to resist the inroads of a dread disease for a score of years, the Spanish war veteran swept his finger eloquently across the broad expanse of the fertile valley below him.

"They don't have hills like these down in Louisiana," he said. "They don't have this life-giving air, the whispers of birds in the tall trees, the rustle of the leaves, the roads of level homes and the river."

"I don't want to go back there any more," he and shook his finger at the officers. "They kept me there for 19 years. For 19 years they have persecuted me, hounded me, carried me back whenever I ran away. I only want to be left alone and I won't harm anybody."

"They're tried to take my liberty away and they've done it. But they can't take my pension. Back in the days of the war with Spain I learned that and the courts have told them so."

He had been hiding back of the home of his brother, Matt, when United States Marshal Brownlow Jackson and his men came with Dr. C. C. Barantini and J. E. Wintz, of the United States public health service. These latter two brought him out and tried to persuade him to return with them.

Early is a well-read man and he showed it then. In a thunderous voice, which carried his words far down the hill slopes he pleaded his cause. In a firm, stubborn way he told them that he had rather die than leave his beloved home.

But the government had decided he was an outcast and those who had come for him had their orders. They told him so, and finally he gave in a bit.

"I'll go if my brother Matt will go back down there with me," he told them. And Matt would go if they would pay his way. The federal health agents agreed. John and Matt went into their homes and came out in their clothing. They got into a waiting auto and seated side by side drove down the winding road which led south.

When they took him away, a weary, aging man who had pleaded in vain for his liberty.

Duke's Love Ship Sinks In One Month

Chicago, August 29.—(P)—William H. Thompson's mayoralty campaign pledge to remove William McAndrew as superintendent of schools, because he was "a stool pigeon of the British king," was partially carried out today.

McAndrew was suspended by the board of trustees pending a trial September 29 on a charge of insubordination. The charge was based on the superintendent's defense of a policy of employing extra teachers in clerical positions in the schools. He added these teachers in their successful efforts to obtain an injunction preventing their discharge.

The superintendent was made a target of attack by Thompson in his campaign, the candidate alluding to him as a "stool pigeon for the British king," and charging that he sponsored history texts that were sympathetic to England's efforts during the revolution of 1917.

McAndrew is 43 years old. He was assistant superintendent of schools in New York before coming to Chicago in 1924. He served in New York ten years. He was born in Ypsilanti, Mich., and was educated in the normal school there and the University of Michigan.

ATLANTIC AVIATORS ARE FORCED BACK

London, Ontario, August 29.—(P)—The monoplane Sir John Carling, which took off early this morning for London, England, returned to its starting point today, driven back by a storm south of Oakville.

Captain Terry Tully and Lieutenant James Medcalf took off in the Stinson-Detroler monoplane at 5:30 o'clock this morning and were back at their starting point at 11 o'clock.

Although the weather was fine at the hop-off the aviators ran into a heavy rain storm while flying over Lake Ontario. When they reached Oakville, just west of Toronto, they decided that storm conditions were so severe that it would be unwise to continue.

It is estimated that the county will produce more bales this year than the previous six-year average.

FINE CROP GROWN IN BARROW COUNTY

Winder, Ga., August 29.—(Special.)—The farmers of Barrow county are harvesting the best crops they have made in the last seven years. Cotton, especially cotton, has been reduced since 1920, weather conditions have been favorable this year and the yield will be the best of all the intervening years.

Barrow has just commenced with the cotton crop in good condition.

THOUSANDS GREET COL. LINDBERGH IN DES MOINES

Des Moines, Iowa, August 29.—(P)—Iowa's capital city and thousands of visitors from other parts of the state thrilled today at the sight of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who flew his Spirit of St. Louis from Sioux City.

The famous flier's visit found Des Moines thronged with state fair visitors who all but forgot the attractions of the exposition to cheer the air.

Two days hence they will again greet a trans-Atlantic flier when Clarence Chamberlain, an Iowan, and the first pilot to follow Lindbergh across, comes to Des Moines.

Colonel Lindbergh wound up his second day in Iowa with a banquet engagement this evening. He was the central figure during the afternoon at ceremonies dedicating a new municipal flying field.

About 12 o'clock tomorrow the colonel will take off in the Spirit of St. Louis for Omaha.

PERMIT TO NAME BEACH FOR LINDY ASKED

Omaha, Neb., August 29.—(P)—Permission to name in his honor the beach at Stateline, Neb., where he took off for England when he flew to Crofton field, will be sought from Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, when he comes here tomorrow.

A copy of a cable from the mayor of that city, which has followed Lindbergh to Le Bourget field, and then to this country, has been received by Major Jones, chief of the air service in the seventh army corps area.

W. C. T. U. BATTLES OVER 'BARTEENDER'

Minneapolis, August 29.—(P)—In perfect accord over major issues in voting politics, the National Woman's club today developed a new day argued over remote mention of the word "bartender" in its national platform.

After quickly adopting planks declaring resolute opposition to candidates running without "bone dry" intentions, the delegates to the annual convention of the W. C. T. U. in Minneapolis, Minn., voted to delete the word "bartender" from the platform.

To emphasize the undesirability of his plan the committee wrote that "the old-fashioned bartender" was a "disgrace to the community." The word "bartender" was deleted from the platform.

But Mrs. Hillerman stood her ground. Meanwhile the chair was having difficulty in confining the discussion to the subject of the word "bartender." The word "bartender" was deleted from the platform.

Mrs. Mary Harris Armour, Atlanta, president of the Georgia W. C. T. U., and known in convention circles as the "Georgia Cyclone," was recognized by the chair and in a brief but sparkling speech she declared that the word "bartender" was a "disgrace to the community."

"Under the Canadian plan as applied to this country," she said, "I would take a bartender and put him in the uniform of the United States government."

Two minor amendments were affected. One condemned the display of pocket flasks in store windows and the other added the word "disloyal" to a clause holding that it is bad form to flout the constitution by drinking.

Pleading for "willing obedience to the letter and spirit of the law as a plain American duty," the motion picture was declared that "alcoholic liquors have no place in the home medicine chest," and deplored the home manufacture of home brew and home wine.

Merchants are requested "to discontinue the sale of ingredients and utensils plainly merchandised for use in the manufacture of alcoholic beverages."

RHEUMATISM

May be relieved by rational treatment—it can not be rubbed away.

Are you one of those unfortunate who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, commonly called rheumatism, and who are unable to do your work, and who are suffering from the most miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried almost everything. Went to Hot Springs, but it did me no good. I decided to try S.S.S., and I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best." Earl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and given to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

From youth to later years S.S.S. is a proven tonic—give it and take it where a tonic is indicated.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical. (Adv.)

LEPER EARLY BEGS LEAVE TO DIE IN CAROLIAN HILLS

Tryon, N. C., August 29.—(P)—A weary, aging man stood among the hills he loved yesterday and pleaded in vain with those who had come to take him away.

He was John Early, leper, asking that he be let alone and allowed to stay his few remaining years in the mountains which nurtured him in his youth. And nine federal and county officers, who had come to get him to return to the leprosarium in Louisiana, were held well nigh speechless for nearly an hour by the power of his appeal.

Today Early was speeding southward on a train while Tryon breathed easy and his kin were laying plans to appeal to the court and health service to let them make home to keep him near them, but away from society. But standing countless yesterday under a bright afternoon sun which brought the perspiration to his brow, at the very summit of one of the cliffs which had given him strength to resist the inroads of a dread disease for a score of years, the Spanish war veteran swept his finger eloquently across the broad expanse of the fertile valley below him.

"They don't have hills like these down in Louisiana," he said. "They don't have this life-giving air, the whispers of birds in the tall trees, the rustle of the leaves, the roads of level homes and the river."

"I don't want to go back there any more," he and shook his finger at the officers. "They kept me there for 19 years. For 19 years they have persecuted me, hounded me, carried me back whenever I ran away. I only want to be left alone and I won't harm anybody."

"They're tried to take my liberty away and they've done it. But they can't take my pension. Back in the days of the war with Spain I learned that and the courts have told them so."

He had been hiding back of the home of his brother, Matt, when United States Marshal Brownlow Jackson and his men came with Dr. C. C. Barantini and J. E. Wintz, of the United States public health service. These latter two brought him out and tried to persuade him to return with them.

Early is a well-read man and he showed it then. In a thunderous voice, which carried his words far down the hill slopes he pleaded his cause. In a firm, stubborn way he told them that he had rather die than leave his beloved home.

But the government had decided he was an outcast and those who had come for him had their orders. They told him so, and finally he gave in a bit.

"I'll go if my brother Matt will go back down there with me," he told them. And Matt would go if they would pay his way. The federal health agents agreed. John and Matt went into their homes and came out in their clothing. They got into a waiting auto and seated side by side drove down the winding road which led south.

When they took him away, a weary, aging man who had pleaded in vain for his liberty.

Duke's Love Ship Sinks In One Month

Chicago, August 29.—(P)—William H. Thompson's mayoralty campaign pledge to remove William McAndrew as superintendent of schools, because he was "a stool pigeon of the British king," was partially carried out today.

McAndrew was suspended by the board of trustees pending a trial September 29 on a charge of insubordination. The charge was based on the superintendent's defense of a policy of employing extra teachers in clerical positions in the schools. He added these teachers in their successful efforts to obtain an injunction preventing their discharge.

The superintendent was made a target of attack by Thompson in his campaign, the candidate alluding to him as a "stool pigeon for the British king," and charging that he sponsored history texts that were sympathetic to England's efforts during the revolution of 1917.

McAndrew is 43 years old. He was assistant superintendent of schools in New York before coming to Chicago in 1924. He served in New York ten years. He was born in Ypsilanti, Mich., and was educated in the normal school there and the University of Michigan.

ATLANTIC AVIATORS ARE FORCED BACK

London, Ontario, August 29.—(P)—The monoplane Sir John Carling, which took off early this morning for London, England, returned to its starting point today, driven back by a storm south of Oakville.

Captain Terry Tully and Lieutenant James Medcalf took off in the Stinson-Detroler monoplane at 5:30 o'clock this morning and were back at their starting point at 11 o'clock.

Although the weather was fine at the hop-off the aviators ran into a heavy rain storm while flying over Lake Ontario. When they reached Oakville, just west of Toronto, they decided that storm conditions were so severe that it would be unwise to continue.

It is estimated that the county will produce more bales this year than the previous six-year average.

FINE CROP GROWN IN BARROW COUNTY

Winder, Ga., August 29.—(Special.)—The farmers of Barrow county are harvesting the best crops they have made in the last seven years. Cotton, especially cotton, has been reduced since 1920, weather conditions have been favorable this year and the yield will be the best of all the intervening years.

Barrow has just commenced with the cotton crop in good condition.

THOUSANDS GREET COL. LINDBERGH IN DES MOINES

Des Moines, Iowa, August 29.—(P)—Iowa's capital city and thousands of visitors from other parts of the state thrilled today at the sight of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who flew his Spirit of St. Louis from Sioux City.

The famous flier's visit found Des Moines thronged with state fair visitors who all but forgot the attractions of the exposition to cheer the air.

Two days hence they will again greet a trans-Atlantic flier when Clarence Chamberlain, an Iowan, and the first pilot to follow Lindbergh across, comes to Des Moines.

Colonel Lindbergh wound up his second day in Iowa with a banquet engagement this evening. He was the central figure during the afternoon at ceremonies dedicating a new municipal flying field.

About 12 o'clock tomorrow the colonel will take off in the Spirit of St. Louis for Omaha.

PERMIT TO NAME BEACH FOR LINDY ASKED

Omaha, Neb., August 29.—(P)—Permission to name in his honor the beach at Stateline, Neb., where he took off for England when he flew to Crofton field, will be sought from Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, when he comes here tomorrow.

A copy of a cable from the mayor of that city, which has followed Lindbergh to Le Bourget field, and then to this country, has been received by Major Jones, chief of the air service in the seventh army corps area.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION TO MEET NEAR BUFORD

Buford, Ga., August 29.—(Special.)—The Lawrenceville Baptist association will hold its regular annual meeting at Old Suwanee church, about three miles south of Buford, on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

The old Suwanee church is one of the oldest Baptist churches in this section and has been host to the association on two different occasions.

Members of the church are planning to entertain the association as royally as possible at this time.

Rev. C. H. Whitener, pastor of the Buford Baptist church, will deliver the association sermon on Wednesday morning. Rev. J. T. Jones, pastor of the Zion Hill church, near Buford, is moderator and Hon. F. B. Maddox, state legislator from Gwinnett county, is clerk of the association.

"School days, school days, dear old golden rule days, Readin' and writin' and 'rithmetic Taught to the tune of a hickory stick."

CAN YOU remember the first day you started to school? When Mother kissed you good-bye and stood on the steps watching you trudge away full of importance with your new bag hung from your shoulder, holding your new book all about "A stands for Apple, rosy and round," and your lunch put up by Mother herself, which to think of even now makes your mouth water.

POSSIBLY you can remember the frock or suit you wore which had much to do with making the day a success.

THE NEW school clothes have come for your child, and delightful memories will be his in after years if you select this important outfit here.

Blood Rich In Iron Builds Good Health

Mineral-Tone, a Combination of Minerals Made by Nature, Contains 75% Iron—Results From Its Use Astonishing.

It is common knowledge that the blood feeds the entire body, every organ in it. Could anything, therefore, be more important to your health and strength than that your blood be pure, clean, rich in iron, and strong enough to enable your body to throw off the many ills which beset it?

If your blood is weak, pale, anemic and lacking in iron, carrier instead of a destroyer of germs and disease, then get Mineral-Tone at once. Mineral-Tone is not made by the aid of chemicals, or drugs, or alcohol, but is taken from the blood of the earth where it has been thousands of years in the making.

Once for each year, Mineral-Tone contains 1,000 times as much iron as pure iron, 1,000 times as much iron as natural or lean beef, and this iron is easily taken into the blood, infusing an energy and vigor into the blood, infusing an energy and vigor into the blood, infusing an energy and vigor into the blood.

Atlanta Man Wants Everyone to Take Mineral-Tone

Suffered Agony 10 Years, Says Swint. Natural Remedy Helped at Once.

"Mineral-Tone has done so much for my wife and me," says Mr. M. L. Swint, of 202 Fenwick St., Atlanta, "that I want to do what I can toward telling suffering humanity what a wonderful medicine it really is. We are both so happy that we are telling everyone we meet to take

DR. J. ADOLPHUS, FORMER ATLANTAN, PASSES IN LINCOLN

News of the death Monday morning of Dr. J. Adolphus, well-known physician of Lincoln, Neb., and former resident of Atlanta, was received here by his sister, Mrs. W. B. Cummings, wife of the ex-chief of the Atlanta fire department.

Dr. Adolphus, a native of Atlanta, was the son of the late Dr. Joseph Adolphus, noted teacher and founder of a local medical college. The family were pioneers in this section.

News of the physician's death, at the age of 45, came as a shock to his wide circle of friends. In addition to his large number of social and professional acquaintances, he was a prominent figure in Masonic circles as was his father.

Besides Mrs. Cummings, Dr. Adolphus is survived by two other sisters, Dr. Stella Holle and Mrs. Alma Moore, both of Tulsa, Okla., and two brothers, Dr. Gus Adolphus of Clearwater, Fla., and A. O. Woodward, of Atlanta.

AGOGA CLASS HEADS CITY SUNDAY SCHOOLS

The Agoga Sunday school class of the Baptist Tabernacle led the classes of the 26 schools reporting to the Georgia Sunday school association in attendance last Sunday. It had 265 present. The Gleaners class of the Immanuel Baptist church came second with an attendance of 194. First among the Sunday school in total attendance was the Baptist Tabernacle with 1,306 present.

MEETINGS TO PUSH MRS. NORTH TO TAKE NEW CITY WORK STAND THIS MORNING

Decided impetus will be given the program for administration of the $500,000 bond issue today when the sewer committee of city council lays plans for $300,000 worth of projects and the Atlanta board of education meets in special session to perfect specifications for five school additions and one school reconstruction.

All projects previously sanctioned by the sewer committee and passed to the Atlanta board of education for approval will be discussed today. The board will stand on an equal footing when the committee begins work of authorizing jobs. No recommendations will be made until the board has heard the report of the committee. The board will stand on an equal footing when the committee begins work of authorizing jobs. No recommendations will be made until the board has heard the report of the committee.

Announcement was made that the board of education would be asked to approve specifications for the addition to Hoke Smith Junior High school and new buildings at Capitol View, Ormeau, Davis and Stanton schools. A special meeting of the board probably will be called to discuss the plans and specifications which are as soon as both are ready. R. R. Ritchie, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of business affairs, said.

Detailed drawings of other projects to be constructed from funds of the $500,000 bond issue will be discussed at the meeting of the board, September 13th.

Decision of city council to locate the new city hall on the old Girls' High school site, where the board of education has operated the William S. Thompson Junior High school, has given the board no end of trouble, and a plan to house the institution will be launched this afternoon.

William S. Thompson, chairman of the building and grounds committee, will ask that council provide money to construct another school, and in the event that fails, will ask council to provide money to rent other quarters. R. M. Eubanks, president of the board, stated Monday that the board might be forced to use the municipal auditorium.

The special called session of the board will convene at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the city council chamber.

Girls' Church Home
Directors Will Hold
Monthly Meet Today

A regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Church's Home for Girls, Inc., will be held today at 1 o'clock at the Martha Candler home, formerly the Angier terrace, at 248 E. Peach street, according to an announcement by John A. Manget, chairman of the board.

A luncheon will be served in the home at 12 o'clock. The meeting is the regular monthly business meeting. The Martha Candler home is one of the largest and best equipped of the five homes for girls located in various sections of the city. There are at present 60 girls living in the home who work during the day.

A report of the subscriptions received during the recent weeks of the $75,000 mortgage payment fund drive for the home will be made at the business session.

Officers of the home are John A. Manget, chairman of the board; R. J. Guinn, vice chairman; E. A. Craighead, treasurer; W. C. Craighead, recording secretary; and Mrs. Thomas Johnson, corresponding secretary.

APPLE GROWERS TO GIVE BARBECUE IN BIG ORCHARD

As a means of interesting the people of Georgia in the marketing of apples and the development of this crop as a staple agricultural industry for the state, a barbecue for newspaper and produce men will be held Saturday in the orchard of Porter Brothers Farm corporation at Esom Hill, Ga., officials of the company announced Monday.

The Porter brothers are growers of fancy Trent Mountain apples and their orchards cover a wide expanse of territory in that section. The large gathering of newspapermen and produce dealers expected to attend the barbecue will be taken on an inspection tour of the grounds. Practical illustrations of picking and packing apples will be given.

C. R. Porter, of Rome, Ga., vice president of Porter Brothers Farm corporation, is in charge of arrangements for the barbecue.

'SWEET POTATO
WEEK' ANNOUNCED
AS AID TO CROP

Plans are being formulated by the state bureau of markets to sponsor next week "Sweet Potato Week" throughout Georgia. It was announced Monday afternoon in the commission of agriculture's office.

Due to a bumper crop and a congestion of the market the bureau of markets has decided to sponsor the week with a view to having the product used more extensively by Georgia people. Commissioner Eugene Talmadge announced that he would ask the governor to issue a proclamation designating next week as "Sweet Potato Week."

The campaign will follow similar programs to the apple week and civic organizations will be asked to lend their support to get wider usage of the sweet potato. Special menus and recipes for this purpose also will be circulated throughout the state.

U. S. AGRICULTURAL ENGINEERS SOUGHT

Competitive examination for junior agricultural engineer to fill vacancies in various branches of the service will be held early in October, officials of the United States civil service commission announced Monday. The last day for filing applications with the commission at Washington will be October 1.

Competitors in the examinations will be rated on general physics, mathematics, general engineering and agricultural engineering.

ATLANTA RAILROAD
OFFICIALS TO JOIN
FREIGHT PARLEY

Representatives of 85 railroads and steamship lines of the east and southeast, including many prominent officials from Atlanta, will convene in a joint session at the Cavalier hotel, Virginia Beach, Va., September 8, to discuss a new method of attack upon the problem of lost and damaged freight, it was announced Monday.

The joint session will climax a three-day series of conferences of railroad claim officers.

The new method of attack upon this problem, which is said to be costing the public and the railroads millions annually, centers about an attempt to interest railroad superintendents in measures to correct the principal causes for damaged or lost freight.

The plan will be launched by inviting one superintendent from each railroad in eastern and southeastern territories to participate in the discussion of two subjects—"Carload Damage" and "Lost Freight."

Through the interest of the superintendents participating in the conference, it is hoped that a superintendents' committee of free men that ever cooperated for mutual protection and benefit outside the realms of government and religion.

The life companies of the United States alone have pledged a mutual protection which expressed in dollars gives a total in excess of all national debts of this country. Great Britain, Germany and France combined.

Here is a sociological force which the ancient and the relatively modern world never thought of. Sociologically it is achieving what power, steel and architecture are achieving in the material world. In it we now find the largest volume of credits ever used in any business, the heaviest obligations ever contracted by any cognate group or groups of men, the largest number of free men that ever cooperated for mutual protection and benefit outside the realms of government and religion.

The Atlanta & West Point railroad will operate a popular excursion from Montgomery, Ala., and intermediate stations up to and including Atlanta, September 4. The round trip rate from Montgomery to Atlanta and return is $3.50. Auburn, $3. Opelika, $3 and West Point, $2.50. Tickets will be honored on all regular trains up to September 6 except the "Crescent Limited."

The Georgia railroad will also operate a popular excursion from Augusta and intermediate stations up to and including Union Point on Saturday, September 3, and for morning train arriving Atlanta September 4. The round trip rate from Augusta to Atlanta and return is $3.50, with proportionate fares up to and including Union Point. Tickets will be good returning on all regular trains leaving Atlanta up to and including No. 4 leaving here at 8 p. m. September 5.

CUMMING YOUTH HELD FOR LIQUOR VIOLATION

T. W. Hammond, 17, who gave his address as Cumming, Ga., was bound over to police court Monday afternoon on bond of $1,000, charged with violating the prohibition law. He was arrested earlier in the day in a garage at 707 Hensell street, in the possession of 119 gallons of liquor, police reports disclosed.

According to officers making the raid, Hammond was filtering the liquor at the garage when confronted by Detectives Austin, Tyson, and Field and Armstrong. At sight of the raiding party, it is said, Hammond bolted in an effort to gain his freedom, but he ran into Lieutenant W. H. Andrews, knocking the officer from his feet in the collision. After a short scuffle, Hammond was taken into custody.

MANESS REPORTS
BIG WEEVIL CROP
IN SOUTH GEORGIA

Production of cotton has been curtailed more than 50 per cent in nine south Georgia counties by the activities of boll weevils, J. C. Maness, of the state department of entomology, stated Monday on his return from a trip through the southern part of the state.

The ravages of the pest have been worse in these counties than in years and unless precautionary steps are taken in adjoining counties the weevils will seriously damage crops in those sections, he reported.

The migratory season is on and unless calcium is used wisely in the northern section of the state the weevils may do serious damage there, he said.

Mr. Maness stated that conditions in those counties from Sumter to Meriwether had been such that weevils were worse this year than in several seasons and that the pests are now attacking grown bolls. In some places the production will be cut 75 per cent, Mr. Maness said.

MAYOR RAGSDALE,

"I feel better than I have in ten years."

That was the terse comment of Mayor I. N. Ragdsdale Monday morning as he resumed his duties as chief executive of the city of Atlanta after a two weeks' enforced absence at a local sanatorium.

Scores of personal friends, members of city council and city officials visited the mayor's suite in the city hall Monday to pay their respects. He spent most of Monday signing salary checks for employees of the city.

WESSELS GIVEN PROMOTION FROM GLASS COMPANY

R. S. Wessels, who for many years was manager of the Atlanta warehouse of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, has recently been appointed district manager of the Detroit warehouse of the company, according to officials of the company here.

Mr. Wessels lived in Atlanta for many years and, in addition to his duties with the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, was actively interested in many civic enterprises of the city. He was particularly interested in the chamber of commerce and the Atlanta musical association during his residence here.

TEN CLUB WILL HONOR SIBLEY RETURN TODAY

A special meeting of the Ten club has been called for 5 o'clock today in honor of the return of Judge Samuel H. Sibley. Through the courtesy of William J. Davis, the meeting will be held at his country home.

In addition to the members of the club, personal friends of Judge Sibley and Mr. Davis have been invited.

GARRETT, GIBBY TRIAL DELAYED UNTIL SEPT. 20

The trial of J. C. Garrett and Tom Gibby, under joint indictment for the murder of Thomas Thwaites last April, was postponed Monday until September 20. The case had been set for trial Monday in Judge G. H. Howard's division of the Fulton superior court, but was delayed because of the absence of several important witnesses.

Thwaites was found stabbed to death in the vicinity of Lakewood park, lying a few hundred feet from an overturned automobile in which it is believed to have been a passenger with his alleged assailants.

NOTICE TO MOVERS

If you are moving, or expect to, do not fail to call Walnut 6565, ask for city circulation department, and have The Constitution changed to your new address. Give your old address and state last day you desire The Constitution left there, then give your new address complete and state first day you desire the paper at your new address, and it will be there. Be sure to either phone or write change address instructions.

Supremacy of Morning Paper

The average person wants his morning newspaper the first thing every morning, and feels lost without it. He wants to know what has happened over the world while he has been asleep. He knows, if he is any sort of an analyst, that the morning paper has first call on 75% of all the news that breaks over the world, and 90% of the news that happens locally.

The morning paper publishes first all the news that comes from noon until after midnight, and it is still news when it reaches the reader.

Give The Constitution the proper change instructions, and you will not miss a single copy of your morning paper.

The life companies of the United States alone have pledged a mutual protection which expressed in dollars gives a total in excess of all national debts of this country. Great Britain, Germany and France combined.

Here is a sociological force which the ancient and the relatively modern world never thought of. Sociologically it is achieving what power, steel and architecture are achieving in the material world. In it we now find the largest volume of credits ever used in any business, the heaviest obligations ever contracted by any cognate group or groups of men, the largest number of free men that ever cooperated for mutual protection and benefit outside the realms of government and religion.

The reason is very simple and very human—the transaction is a concern. He does not profit by devoting any further time to the purchase. In fact, every minute he devotes to servicing this account is time diverted from productive salesmanship, for you will not again be in the market for a long while.

"But in my case it is different. Even if I were disposed to drop the friendly contact I have made with you I am not permitted to overlook the service which it is part of my business to render. My company pays me a small fee each year to see that this contract in every respect meets your actual need as it changes from time to time."

"So do not be surprised to see me come in every now and then to acquaint you with insurance developments that have a bearing on your interests and to learn the conditions you are facing which may affect the policy we have decided is best for you today."—Fidelity Field Man.

INCOME VS. LUMP SUM

Naturally, your wife is devoting her life to the care of yourself and family. She has had neither the time nor the desire to acquire the knowledge of investing or caring for money. No matter how good a business woman your wife may be, it is a fair proposition thrust upon her, at a most distressing time, your life insurance money in a lump sum along with your general estate?

To whom would your wife or family go, regarding the investment of your life insurance money? Your lawyer? Your business associates? Your friends? Your relative? All well-meaning people—but—do you wish your wife's ambition to fall into their hands?

Your family will have no rule with which to measure money. The lump sum seems measureless. It often develops that they live in a "Poor Paradise," in a world of sham values.

The reason why you are working and buying life insurance is to provide for your family. Then why not buy the income plan instead of buying capital? It is the only plan that will be a guarantee that your insurance will serve the purpose for which it was intended. —Mutual Life "Points."

Somebody Pays.

Did it ever occur to you that it does not make any difference whether a man carries life insurance or not, the loss is paid just the same?

Death means loss, and losses must be paid. It is an exact commercial and economical principle that a value must always replace a value if there is a loss.

Because it is only one case, the attention of the world is not called to it, but that the loss is paid whether the man has life insurance or not.—Mutual Trust Record.

National President.

"Life insurance in its ramifications has come to be known as the greatest invention of the age and its present application to the needs of dependents in a business way were not even suspected 50 years ago and only moderately so prior to 1900, but gradually its possibilities have become known and applied and today the love and affection it represents to one's family has been equally supplemented by the need of it plays in reducing other securities relied upon by business magnates in the conduct of their financial affairs."

—The Federation News.

The Professional Man.

Doctors, dentists, attorneys and teachers have just one salable commodity, which is the professional ability they have acquired as the result of much concentrated study and much expense. In their case time is an all-important element. Their ability cannot be transferred to some one else. Nor can they realize the full financial return upon their ability unless they live out the full term of life. In the event of death, disability, life insurance is the only means they could have taken to guarantee the full return and thus capitalize their ability.—The Echo.

WHAT IS INSURANCE? HERE'S THE ANSWER

Life insurance is properly represented by bonds, mortgages and cash.

1. The par value of which is guaranteed for all time.
2. The safety of which is guaranteed by diversity as to type and location of the securities.
3. Preserved by knowledge and skill in acquisition and management.
4. Acquired by the individual and long-time partial payments.—Guardian Life "Service."

NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, August 29.—(AP)—The cotton market was on a bullish rampage today and under the stimulus of heavy buying advanced $5.50 a bale over an early decline. All months closed at the 23-cent level making new highs, both for the season and for the present movement. The buying was induced by fears of an extremely tight market on the part of the government report on boll weevil report tomorrow. The high prices induced considerable realizing and December traded down from the high point of 22.65 to 22.27, closing at the latter figure, 77 points above the previous close. The general market closed steady at a net advance of 55 points.

The opening was barely steady at a decline of 2 to 14 points under realizing and local selling inspired by rather a more favorable view of over-Sunday weather reports and relatively easy Liverpool cables. There appeared to be considerable cotton for sale and prices showed net losses of 16 to 19 points in early trading. October declining to 22.15 and March to 22.57. Offerings were absorbed on a scale down to these figures, however, and the market turned sharply upward on the outlook for further showers in the south, the very bullish average of crop advice generally, and expectations that the government report tomorrow would tend to confirm recent private reports of damage. Demand became more active as prices worked upward and stop-orders were uncovered, on the advance which carried October contracts up to 22.40 and March to 22.84, or 125 to 137 points above the low levels of the morning, and 105 to 109 points above Saturday's closing quotations. Demand subsided somewhat at these figures, the close showing reactions of 34 to 39 points from the best under realizing.

After early selling had run its course, offerings were comparatively light until the realizing developed in late trading, and, at times during the day, there were advances of 5 to 10 points between sales. Exports today 13,534 bales, making 258,523 this season. Port receipts 38,540. U. S. port stocks, 1,057,084.

COTTONSEED OIL-MARK HAS RECORD BUSINESS

New York, August 29.—(AP)—The cottonseed oil market today experienced its largest day's business since the world war, transactions totaling 71,400 barrels. The seasonal advance in cotton and a feeling of crop apprehension over the cotton crop outlook brought in a large buying movement through cotton houses, while tenders on September contracts of 16,300 barrels caused active liquidation in the near months. Prices for the late months advanced about one-quarter of a cent and crude oil in the south was about one-quarter of a cent higher, at 91.8 to 91.4 cents.

DEAN ONATIA FIRMS BANKRUPT

New York, August 29.—(AP)—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in United States district court today against Dean Onatia and company, for many years one of the best known stock exchange houses in Wall street.

On July 18, the concern made an assignment for the benefit of the creditors to E. A. Pierce and company. Liabilities were estimated at $2,000,000 and assets at $1,500,000. The petition charges that the assignment was part of an attempt to defraud certain creditors through preferential payment to others.

Preference was shown to holders of notes amounting to $1,500,000 who were notified to deposit their securities, the petition alleged, when certain bankers in New York when they would receive 20 per cent of the amount then due and two per cent of the face value of their holdings. The petition was filed by counsel for Louis Lewis, Abraham Buchshtal and Irving L. Lewis, creditors, on open accounts, who stated that they are due them amounts totaling more than $80,000 with interest since July, 1925.

Onatia and company was thrown into bankruptcy in 1925 in the largest of any stock exchange failure in recent years, but was permitted to reorganize and within six months the concern had been re-established by the board of directors of the stock exchange.

New York, August 29.—There was considerable discussion in the papers in this part of the country over the week-end of the falling off that occurred in the closing of the market on July and the seven months of the year together with stories from Detroit and other manufacturing centers that automobile manufacturers were more concerned than appeared on the surface over the outcome of Ford's new car. On top of this the federal reserve board at Washington in its preliminary monthly summary of financial and trade conditions reported July industrial production being 10 per cent below the professional traders in the stock market even more bearish than last week. General Motors which closed Saturday at 249 dropped to 247 on Monday, professional profit taking and short selling at 244-1/2 with Cast Iron Pipe, Pan-American and a few other shares making the new low. Nevertheless, such a situation does not help the stock exchange in its efforts to make the big outside public understand the real reason for the decline in the country's financial and industrial welfare.

Cotton made a new 1927 high on estimates that the government report in Wall street that there is a 13,000,000 bales. A month ago the trade expected between 14,500,000 and 15,000,000 bales but the last government estimate was 13,492,000 bales against last year's high record of 17,900,000.

Traders Differ.

It is a matter of common knowledge in Wall street that there is as much difference between the average trader in the stock market of today and the trader of pre-war days as there is between the average trader in the stock market of today and the trader of pre-war days as there is between the average trader in the stock market of today and the trader of pre-war days.

In recent years the average trader in the stock market has been more and more attention to the work in the stock market of today and the trader of pre-war days as there is between the average trader in the stock market of today and the trader of pre-war days as there is between the average trader in the stock market of today and the trader of pre-war days.

They Wouldn't Believe

By Roy Vickers.

SYNOPSIS.
On the way to Donald Briery's house for luncheon Connie Elmore, Donald's fiancée, tells her friend Olive Weston that Donald stands a chance of inheriting half a million from the estate of old Harrowby, a friend of Donald's father. Olive and Connie share a flirt in London. Olive is secretly in love with Donald, but sincerely pleased at Connie's good fortune in winning him.

Sandle and Querk, solicitors handling the Harrowby estate, are crooked and plot to cheat Donald Briery of the fortune by having a spurious heir appear whose claim is prior to Donald's. In the midst of the plotting Augustus Briery, Donald's father, presumed to have died when the Titanic sank, calls on Sandle. Querk suggests to Sandle that he invite Briery to Harrowby house and there with the assistance of Querk's clerk, Wade, dispose of Briery.

Connie decides to visit her old nurse, who is now caretaker of Harrowby house. Mrs. Jones is out, but Connie finds the key and lets herself in to wait for her. She hears strange noises in the library and going to investigate she sees Mr. Sandle and another man with Mr. Briery, whom she recognizes from his portrait. Rushing out of the house, Connie stumbles into Mr. Querk. While telling her story Querk pushes the bell and sends a signal to the murderers. Connie sees a policeman and calling him the three proceed to the library and Connie asks Querk to open the secret panel in the wall where she had seen the men place the body. It is empty. Querk accompanies her to the police station, where she tells her story. The superintendent, Querk intimates that she imagined the scene and in exasperation Connie goes to see Olive Weston. Olive believes her story.

INSTALLMENT XIV.

THE ALIBI.

The superintendent murmured a grateful assent and a couple of minutes later Querk was speaking to Sandle.

"Is that you, my dear Sandle? . . . You know my voice, of course. I am speaking from the district police station. I wonder whether you would be good enough to get in a taxi and come around? . . . No, it's nothing to do with any clients. It is merely a formality—but a rather important formality. The superintendent is in a difficulty and I have volunteered to get him out of it with your help. I shall take it as a great personal favor if you will come at once, my dear Sandle. . . . Thank you very much."

While Querk had been speaking on the telephone the constable whom Connie had called to the house entered the room. He was giving his report to the superintendent when Querk hung up the receiver. The account was the same as that already given by Connie and Querk himself and nothing was elicited by the superintendent's questions. The constable confirmed the superintendent's previous point—namely: that if the murder had taken place and the murderers had subsequently been startled by the girl's noisy departure from the house and Querk's ringing at the bell, the last thing they would have done would have been to delay their flight by taking the corpse away with them.

Before the questioning had finished, Sandle's card was brought in by an orderly.

"Ask Mr. Sandle to come in," said the superintendent when Querk interposed.

"One moment, I beg you, superintendent! You may not realize it, perhaps, but it is a little bit of a shock to the ordinary citizen to be sent for by the police. I am sure that Sandle to know that he is suspected of murder. As a special favor, I ask you to allow me to acquaint Mr. Sandle with the reason for my making him to come here—in your presence, of course."

"Yes, certainly, Mr. Querk, that will be all right," said the superintendent, and the constable. Querk knew the one danger to be feared was Sandle's nerves. The man came into the room with a head of perspiration on his brow. A coward, Querk knew, who could merely be driven to desperate deeds by the lash of a greater fear.

"Good afternoon, Mr. Sandle. I'm much obliged to you for coming around," said the superintendent. "Will you take a seat?"

"I echo the superintendent's thanks, my dear Sandle," said Querk, beaming. "A most unfortunate and embarrassing thing has occurred. Miss Elmore has been here with the—er—most extraordinary statement. She apparently spent the afternoon, or part of it, at Harrowby House. It was on my way there, as I told you I would be earlier in the afternoon, when I came upon her running out of the house in a state of panic."

Sandle was staring at the floor. It was a good enough nose, thought Querk. He looked slightly sullen. If only the man had enough self-control not to show a too acute interest in what was to follow!

"I saw nothing about Miss Elmore to suggest any kind of brainstoring—any kind of mental abnormality. She seemed just excited and frightened. She gave me what I can only characterize as the most amazing story of having witnessed from the organ-loft overhanging the library—the murder, my dear Sandle."

Sandle granted.

"The alleged victim was a man who has been dead for thirteen years."

Aunt Het

"I reckon I ain't a good fundamentalist in some ways, but I ain't ever yet raised a baby on a bottle."

Kitty McKay

The girl-friend says her husband may be a big business man to the rest of the world, but to her he's only the boy who can't find his own collar buttons.

But no doubt you are wondering where you come into all this?"

It was a cue—a rather too obvious cue—and Querk knew that the superintendent was recognizing it as such. Sandle took it.

"Yes. What exactly have I to do with that, Querk?"

It was badly done, thought Querk. The cue had been taken by an amateur actor mumbling his lines. Querk no longer cared. If Sandle were to break down it would be Sandle who would suffer.

"I will tell you," said Querk. "Not only was the victim of this—ah—dramatic outrage—a man who, as I have said, has already been dead for thirteen years, but the chief assailant was—er—yourself."

Sandle clenched his fists. There came into his eyes a flash of terror. Querk hastened into the breach.

"Pray don't be alarmed, my dear fellow," he said soothingly. "I told you it is only a formality. The superintendent will substantiate my assurance that there will be no questioning of your being suspected of a murder which, as you have not the slightest grounds for supposing has actually been committed. I have already told the superintendent that I was with you in your office earlier in the afternoon. I am not sure of the exact time when I left you, although we can find out from your clerk. I think it was about four fifteen. The—ah—murder must have taken place somewhere about five. Can you account for your movements between your leaving your office and your arrival at your flat?"

Sandle had raised his head and Querk saw with satisfaction that his expression was well controlled.

"As it so happens, I can account for pretty nearly every minute," said Sandle to the superintendent. "My clerk must have seen me last about five minutes after Mr. Querk left. I was with a client who left with me by my private door some five or ten minutes later. As nearly as I can calculate, it would have been about four twenty. I drove by Oxford street into the park. There I was stopped by a choked jet. I got out and just as I was lifting the bonnet, my friend, Mr. Wade—fortunately for me, as it now appears—managed a lurch and tapped me on the shoulder. We had a chat and I gave him a lift to the other side of the park. I put him down at Lancaster Gate at 5.15 and say between five o'clock and five minutes past. I had been in a little more than five minutes when Mr. Querk rang me on the telephone."

"Thank you, Mr. Sandle," said the superintendent. "That sounds quite satisfactory."

"Wade is also a friend of mine," interposed Querk. "If you want his address, I can give it to you."

"Well, it won't be necessary in the present instance," said the superintendent. "As a matter of fact," he added, "we shall take no steps unless further information is forthcoming."

Querk rose and gave the superintendent his hand.

"Now remember, superintendent, you may have my private address and telephone number. Any hour of the day or night, if you want me, I am at your disposal. If you are in difficulties of any kind which I can smooth over, do not hesitate. I feel no little responsibility for this affair. I will go to any length—any length whatever—to prevent any steps being taken by the police against Miss Elmore. Why, it seems only the other day that she was a little—but, there! Now your time has been wasted and the time of the constable has been wasted. His hands went to his pocketbook. "I want you on that account to let me make a little donation to the police orphanage. Yes, I insist!" He laid a five-pound note on the table. "Please don't mention my name. Let it be the gift of this station."

Attractive Visitors Prolong Season of Summer Gaieties

Though summer is on the wane, the last remaining days of August find society still engrossed in the gay activities which have made the season unusually delightful in Atlanta. Neither do Atlanta hostesses ever grow too tired or surfeited with entertaining to prepare a royal welcome for the visitors in their midst. A number of unusually attractive maids and matrons from other places center the attention of society at present, thereby serving to prolong the program planned for summer days.

Miss Teresa Wade Atkinson has invited members of the schoolgirl set for a swim today to meet Miss Mary Rose, of Richmond, Va., who is the guest of her cousin, Miss Augusta Porter, and Miss Mary Lawrence of Marietta, who is visiting Miss Sarah Meador.

Mrs. Royston Cabaniss, of Pensacola, Fla., always inspires a number of pretty parties on the occasions of her visits. Mrs. Edwin Peeples entertains at an informal family luncheon today in her home.

Mrs. Edwin Watkins, of New York, is another charming visitor who claims society's attention wherever she goes. Dr. and Mrs. Frank Boland and Mr. and Mrs. Evelyn Harris will entertain at the dinner-dance this evening at the Capital City club, inviting a group of friends to meet Mrs. Watkins.

Returning from Camp Dixie Monday, Miss Mary Spalding Dean brought with her Miss Dorothy Smith, of Macon, in whose honor she will entertain at luncheon at the Druid Hills Golf club.

Miss Mathilde Farrell, of New Orleans, will be central figure at the bridge-tea at which Mrs. L. H. Harris will be hostess today.

Mrs. Bryant Honors

Mrs. Walter McDaniel.

Mrs. E. L. Bryant was hostess at a bridge-luncheon at her home in Avondale Friday in honor of Mrs. Walter McDaniel, a recent bride. The hostess was assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Miss Vivian Bryant. The guest of honor was presented a linen breakfast set.

The guests included: Mrs. Walter McDaniel, Mrs. R. J. Stahl, Mrs. LeRoy Jones, Mrs. Louis Collier, Mrs. D. C. Lawhorn, Mrs. Henry Earhartman, Mrs. C. E. Bothwell, Mrs. John Gless, Mrs. Robert Hale, Mrs. Holland Fagin, Mrs. Broughton Branch, Mrs. Roy G. Jones, Mrs. W. E. Robo, Mrs. W. Milne Wallace, Mrs. Charles Kroner and Miss Emmie Davis.

The Times Carries

Miss Bridges' Photo.

Last Sunday's issue of the Chattanooga Times carried in the section devoted to society a lovely photograph of Miss Eugenia Bridges, beautiful young sub-deb daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bridges.

Miss Bridges has been the center of much social attention recently as the guest of Miss Frances Harris at her home in the Elizabeth apartments in Chattanooga. Miss Bridges accompanied her home, her visit being marked by a number of informal courtesies arranged by members of the younger set.

Miss Bridges will return at an early date to Hollins college in Virginia, where she was a popular student last year.

Woodberry Hall Social Notes Are of Interest

Miss Alice Backus, of Cartersville, returns next week to enter the junior class of Woodberry Hall. Miss Backus is a popular member of the Pi Epsilon sorority and a leader of her class and in athletic activities.

Misses Emily and Betty Bush, of Daytona, Fla., have entered the resident department of Woodberry Hall. Miss Eugenia Divine Jones, of Valdosta, is a popular young girl who has been enrolled among the residents of Woodberry.

Miss Ruth Mathis, recently of Americus; Miss Abreha Baird, of Austell; Miss Veleto Roan, of Pemetto; Miss Helen Clark, of Decatur, are among the new girls registered at Woodberry Hall.

Miss Louise Barclay, of Cartersville, enters the senior class of Woodberry with a notable record of scholarship.

Miss Marguerite Strachan, of Ontario, who represents Ann Arbor on the faculty in the department of Latin, and Miss Theresa Newton, of Madison, who holds her degree from Agnes Scott and has the department of mathematics, will arrive next week for the opening of Woodberry Hall on September 12.

Miss Katherine Spring, a distinguished graduate of Wesleyan college, has been appointed to the chair of history at Woodberry Hall. Miss Doughty Manley, director of athletics for the past year at Woodberry, will be again in charge of this department the coming year and has arranged a varied program of activities for the girls.

West End Club Gives Luncheon Friday.

A "brighten up" bridge-luncheon will be given Friday morning, September 2, at the West End Woman's club, Mrs. Jeff Wright, second vice president, and her committee will be in charge. These bridge-lunches have proven so successful, both socially and financially, that they will be continued during the autumn.

Tables will be arranged at 10 o'clock and luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock. For reservations call Miss Elizabeth Young, West 1389-J; Miss Dorothy Brodson, West 2233-J; Mrs. R. C. Blair, West 2233-J, and Mrs. F. H. Jackson, West 1001.

The chicken dinner given by the finance board was largely attended. Many couples danced on the terrace while the lounge accommodated many parties playing games.

Mrs. George W. Grant, president, announces that the clubhouse is available for private parties. The building is handsomely furnished and splendidly equipped for serving. There will be a large affair given early in September. For terms and arrangements call Mrs. Grant, West 0123-J.

Mrs. J. M. Lankford, secretary, chairman, West 0745, has some business scholarships yet available. The club building is open every day except Sunday for club members and their friends as it is the wish of the president that it be made a real community center.

Mrs. E. W. Bates To Give Party For Granddaughters

Mrs. Elizabeth Winship Bates will entertain at a children's party Saturday afternoon, September 3, at her home on the North Decatur road in Druid Hills, the occasion honoring her little granddaughters, Misses Elizabeth Winship Walsh and Emily Frances Walsh. Mrs. Bates will be assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Mrs. Anne Bates Walsh.

One hundred and fifty little boys and girls will assemble on the grassy terrace adjoining the home of the occasion, where they will enjoy games and other amusements.

Druid Hills Baptist

T. E. L. Class Meeting.

The T. E. L. class of the Druid Hills Baptist church meets on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Edwin L. Harling, 1128 St. Augustine place, Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Mrs. John M. Rudel, president of the class, who has returned to the city from her vacation, will preside. Mrs. W. C. Baynes, of Tampa, Fla., will lead the devotion. During the social hour, Mrs. Frank Rogers will read and Mrs. S. L. Astin will sing. Refreshments will be served. This class is one of the largest Bible classes in the city. Mrs. Lucy Ayers Pitman is the teacher.

Mrs. Otley's Luncheon

Honors Mrs. Sykes.

Mrs. Lida Williams Sykes, of Columbus, Miss., was honor guest at Mrs. John K. Otley's luncheon at the Capital City club, which was a delightful informal affair of Monday. The center of the handsomely appointed table was graced by a silver basket filled with early fall flowers in the Dresden shades. The guests included a few friends of the hostess and honor guest.

Miss Stewart Gives

Literary Tea.

Miss Corn Paxton Stewart's literary tea on Sunday afternoon, in honor of Miss Mary Brent Whiteside, brought together a number of Atlanta writers and visitors. Miss Whiteside read a selection of her poems, including "Again, Sappho," which took the recent highest prize offered by the Virginia Poetry society, and "A Ballad of Tiberias," which took an international prize offered by the Poetry Review of London. She also read a humorous poem, entitled "Ghosts." Miss Whiteside then told the guests some interesting facts about Edwin Arlington Robinson, with whom she was a fellow guest at McDowell Colson, Petersburg, N. H., this summer.

Mrs. Rogers Wilson read Mr. Robinson's "Tristram," which has been received with such wide acclaim on two continents.

Ernest Hartsock was present and brought with him an advance issue of "Poetry," of which he is founder and editor. The contributors to this magazine of verse are well known throughout the country, and Mr. Hartsock is to be congratulated on this recent achievement.

The following were invited as guests for the afternoon: Miss Mary Brent Whiteside and mother, Mrs. Frances S. Whiteside, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Cowles, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Nevin, Mr. and Mrs. Wightman, F. Melton, Mrs. W. C. Jamison, Mrs. Mildred Cabaniss, Mrs. Wilmer Moore Jones, Mrs. Rogers Wilson, Mrs. Ward Wright, Mrs. A. A. Greene, Mrs. Ben H. Hill, Mrs. J. P. ## Moore-Mann Wedding Plans Are of Interest Cordial interest centers in the wedding plans of Miss Elizabeth Boulah Moore and Hunter Merrill Mann, whose marriage will be solemnized Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at St. John Methodist church, with Rev. R. A. Edmondson officiating. Miss Edith Farnham will render an appropriate musical program, preceding the ceremony and Mrs. Hugh Wilkie and Charles Perry will sing.

Miss Moore will be given in marriage by her father and her only sister, Miss Edith Moore, will be maid-of-honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss Ora Dotter and Miss Edith Joe Mann, sister of the groom, and the best man will be John Albert Mann, the groom's brother. Albert Stansell and Howard Moore will be groomsmen. Little Miss Rose Jordan, sister of the groom, and little Miss Barbara McCann, cousin of the bride, will be flower girls.

Closing Exercises At Camp Dixie.

Camp Dixie, where many Atlanta girls have been spending their summer vacations in the Blue Ridge mountains at Clayton, officially closed the season Thursday night with a banquet held in the dining hall at the top of the camp hill.

Miss Eugenia Schumpert, of Dallas, Texas, was toastmistress, and started the account of the summer's journey of the "Good Ship Dixie."

Miss Belle Matheson, formerly of Atlanta and now of Philadelphia, gave a toast to the "harbor," the cabin, toward which all the campers work. Miss Rena Candler gave a toast to the "Water Sports." Other Georgia girls who gave toasts were Miss Betty Thompson, of Macon, Ga.; Miss Gertrude Stith, of Athens; and Miss Cecil Birdsey and Zulee Smith, of Macon.

Misses Nell Winslip and Anne Jeter were awarded their blue discs, and Miss Emily Winslip the blue triangle, Miss Maude Thompson the blue triangle.

The honor cabin, No. 2, claims three Atlanta girls, Miss Mary Spalding Dean, Anne Jeter and Nell Winslip. Miss Cecil Birdsey, of Oconee, Ga., was the highest honor of the season, that of being the first honor camper. Miss Clara Jackson, of Albertville, Ala., was named second honor camper. Miss Josephine Thompson, of Gainesville, Ga., was awarded the gold emblem as honor leader of the season.

'NO INSTRUCTIONS' PLANS FAVORED

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Washington, August 20.—Selection of uninstructed delegations to the democratic national convention is in prospect in many states, particularly in the south, according to word reaching party leaders. The purpose, it is stated, is to avoid as far as possible the bitter factional strife of the 1924 convention.

Some of 1924 backers of William G. McAdoo are among those responsible for the uninstructed delegation policy. Their original thought was to bring about harmony by agreeing in conference at convention time upon the nomination of some one other than McAdoo or Governor Al Smith, the principal in the fight which ripped the party wide open in 1924. With supporters of Governor Smith refusing to consent to his elimination, the harmony program has failed to make much headway. It is still uncertain whether McAdoo will be brought forward again as an active candidate and his followers have failed thus far to join in support of any other aspirant.

There is unanimity of opinion that Governor Smith is at present in the lead of the field of democratic presidential possibilities. A tabulation made public anonymously today as representing the results of a survey by prominent democrats shows that if the convention were held today the necessary two-thirds vote would be cast for Smith. The tabulation credits Smith with a possible total of 755 votes.

Reports reaching democratic national headquarters from many states indicate a widespread belief among the state democratic leaders that Secretary of Commerce Hoover will be the republican presidential nominee. Administration spokesmen in states throughout the country, according to these reports, are showing a tendency to favor Hoover.

FIRST OF FEDERAL COTTON HEARINGS HERE OCTOBER 13

Washington, August 20.—(AP)—Dates and places for five hearings on the cotton phase of the general freight rates investigation were announced today by the interstate commerce commission.

The hearings to be conducted by Commissioner Woodcock will be held at Atlanta October 13; Gulfport, Miss., on the day following the conclusion of the Atlanta hearings; Los Angeles, October 31; Oklahoma City, November 18, and Dallas, November 25.

The commission at the same time set September 20 for a conference to consider procedure and the cost in obtaining data in connection with southern live stock rates.

HAILSTONES LARGE AS HEN EGGS FOUND

Roanoke, Va., August 20.—(AP)—Hailstones as large as pigeon eggs fell in such volume in Craig county during the storm yesterday that they formed drifts to a depth of eight feet, farmers of that county declared today.

Motorists reported the hail did damage to the tops of their cars and made traveling almost impossible.

Governors Seek Uniform System Of Arms Statutes

Buffalo, N. Y., August 20.—(AP)—Convocation by President Coolidge, of a national conference of governors for the exclusive purpose of formulating a uniform system of firearms regulation was proposed today by Attorney General Albert Ottinger, of New York state in an address at the opening session of the annual convention of the National Association of Attorneys General.

He said this would constitute the first step in an organized nationwide drive on crime, having for its purpose the curbing of criminal traffic in small arms, machine guns, bombs and explosives of various kinds.

Mr. Ottinger suggested the licensing of purchasers of firearms and explosives in the same manner as drivers and operators of motor vehicles are at present, with the added provision that the photograph of each person so licensed be filed at some central bureau in each locality.

Modernists Need Godly Walloping Sunday Declares

Ocean Grove, N. J., August 20.—(United News)—Billy Sunday, speaking from the pulpit Sunday in reference to the announcement of the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism, that it had started a campaign against him, said:

"I have more respect for that gang of outcasts than for the modernists of this age. They are a lot of people who are about time the church of God kicked such people out."

He is conducting a series of revival meetings here in connection with the annual encampment of the Ocean Grove Camp Meeting association.

POLICE SEEKING MISSING ROANOKE BUSINESS HEAD

Washington, August 20.—(AP)—Paul R. Teeter, general manager of the Roanoke, Va., was reported today to the police as missing since last Tuesday night. The report was made by H. Heckrotte, eastern representative of the system company, B. C. Mooman, a physician in Roanoke, and other business associates of Teeter.

Friends said Teeter left the hotel ostensibly for Boston with an estimated sum of $300 to $500. Previously he had complained of severe headache. Since departing he has not been heard from and preliminary police investigations, Heckrotte said, indicate that he never reached Boston.

Teeter's associates said that lately the missing man had been under severe nervous strain.

TAMPA ELECTRIC PURCHASES LAND FOR POWER SITE

Tampa, Fla., August 20.—(AP)—Purchase of 22 acres for a new power house site by the Tampa Electric company on Hooker's Point, near here, for a cash consideration of approximately $20,000 per acre was announced today by Peter O. Knight, president.

The transaction was said to involve one of the largest cash considerations ever used by the corporation. No definite figure was set by Mr. Knight for the cost of the new power house, but he said it would "run into millions."

Admsision to Agnes Scott

On account of the rush that always occurs just before the opening of college, we are advising Day Students—both those who were here last year and new ones—to make registration arrangements some time in advance. The opening date this year is September 14th.

According to custom, the college holds open twenty-five boarding spaces, known as "honor spaces," for young women of unusual promise. These may be filled from the waiting list, but are open also to new applicants of specially good preparation. This list is regularly closed about September 1st.

POLICE SLAYER WEB NICHOLSON'S NEW NU-GRAPE MANAGER

New York, August 20.—(United News)—Only 48 hours after he was an impetuous policeman in good standing, Daniel J. Graham, Jr., stood indicted Monday for the murder of a friend he was supposed to guard and charged with dissipating a small fortune said to be the proceeds of the crime.

"The Slick," as the handsome young patrolman was known on his East Side beat, denied everything despite evidence against him.

Chair Fight Begins.

His fight to beat the electric chair will begin Wednesday, when he will be arraigned in general sessions to answer an indictment charging him with shooting Judson Hewitt Pratt, a syndicate boss, in the head and stealing a $4,700 pay roll.

Graham calmly endured the "line-up" at headquarters, when he was subjected to the scrutiny of his former fellow officers and the charges against him intoned by an attaché. His own parents said they had never heard of the "Albany" aunt from whom Graham claimed he received thousands of dollars he distributed on a Saturday night-Sunday-morning spree.

Pratt was shot and killed Saturday morning at the wheel of his baby-blue automobile in East Fifty-second street, near the building to which he went to a Coney Island cabaret and gave away and spent $1,000 in a few hours. When he was arrested there was less than $500 in cash, six bottles of champagne and the glittering roster left.

An odd circumstance is that the roadster was of a baby-blue tint, the same shade as the car driven by the murdered Pratt. The district attorney's office expects an insanity defense.

Graham was arrested several persons have voluntarily told the police they saw him in the car with Pratt Saturday.

18 SOLDIERS KILLED IN BARRACKS COLLAPSE

Leghorn, Italy, August 20.—(United News)—Eighteen soldiers were killed and thirty-two were injured when two floors collapsed in an infantry barracks here tonight.

A number of the injured may die.

The floors gave way in a barracks occupied by the Eighty-eighth regiment.

Most of the killed were crushed by the debris which came down on them from overhead, while many of those occupying the second and third floors fell with the debris and escaped serious injury.

LEXINGTON MEN SEVERELY HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Lexington, Ky., August 20.—(AP)—Dr. George M. McLeish suffered the fracture of both arms and Dr. J. Garland Sherrill was slightly cut and bruised in an accident today on the Lexington pike when the automobile, occupied by the physicians, both of whom are from Louisville, crashed into a telephone pole.

The accident occurred about three miles from Lexington and the police ambulance was called to take the injured to the Good Samaritan hospital. Sherrill, doctor Sherrill, assistant to Dr. McLeish, was driving the car.

The physicians were en route to Louisville from Asheville, N. C., where Dr. Sherrill had been at the bedside of his brother, Colonel Clarence O. Sherrill, city manager of Cincinnati.

Dr. McLeish was driving. The physician had driven the greater part of the night and Dr. Sherrill explained that the accident was caused by Dr. McLeish's great fatigue.

The car was wrecked.

300 ARE KILLED IN INDIA'S MANY RELIGIOUS WARS

Simla, India, August 20.—(AP)—Between 250 and 300 people have been killed and more than 2,500 injured in less than 18 months past as the result of religious conflict between Hindus and Muslims in various parts of India, Lord Irwin, the viceroy, stated in addressing the legislative assembly here today.

Calcutta was one of the storm centers last year, and Lord Irwin said that from April to July the city seemed to be under the mastery of an evil spirit to such an extent that the law had to be reasserted by drastic methods. The same sinister influences were at work elsewhere, he declared.

The viceroy said that there was much in Indian social life that cried out for remedy and reform, but the task would be sorely handicapped so long as the country was distracted and torn by the present animosities.

India desires home government, continued the viceroy. It is Great Britain's task to guide her to this end, and both Britain and India are confronted with the vital necessity of saving the people from the besets the path of their common hopes.

JOAN CRAWFORD THROWN THROUGH AUTO WINDSHIELD

West Point, N. Y., August 20.—(United News)—Joan Crawford, feminine star in picture, "The West Pointer," which is being filmed here, was thrown through the windshield of her motor car and rendered unconscious at 4 p. m., today when the car in which she was riding with William Haines, star of the piece, was struck by an ice truck.

Miss Crawford and Haines were on the way to a location for the picture when the accident occurred on the grounds of the United States Military academy. Haines was badly shaken up but was uninjured. Miss Crawford was removed to the Military Academy hospital, where it was found that she was suffering from severe scalp wounds and bruises.

DALTON CHURCH PLANS FOR SPECIAL SERVICE

Dalton, Ga., August 20.—(AP)—There will be an all-day "song and praise service" at the East Side Baptist church here on the first Sunday in September. The pastor, Rev. C. S. Shugart, will preach a special sermon on the subject, "The Gospel in Song," at 11 o'clock.

KANSAS CITY STAR EDITOR IS DEAD

Kansas City, August 20.—(AP)—Irvin Kirkwood, editor of the Kansas City Star, died today in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., following a heart attack.

Nearly $2,000,000, his life interest in the estate of his wife, Mrs. Laura Nelson Kirkwood, was released to the people of Kansas City by Mr. Kirkwood's death, to be used for construction of an art gallery under the terms of the will of William Rockhill Nelson, founder of the Star.

Mr. Kirkwood became editor of the Star in 1915 after Mr. Nelson's death. In July, 1926, the newspaper was sold for $11,000,000 to a stock company comprised of employees of the Star, with Mr. Kirkwood as principal stockholder.

The estate of Mr. Nelson, including the amount received in the sale of the newspaper, is to be used for purchase of works of art for the Nelson art gallery.

The death of Mr. Kirkwood will bring no new owner into the Star organization.

Under the terms of the organization of the Kansas City Star company and by agreement with the trustees, the stock held by Kirkwood, a slight majority, will revert to the organization to be distributed to the other stockholders, all of whom are employees of the Star.

Stock Reverts.

When the Star was purchased by Kirkwood and his associates in July, 1926, under the terms of the will of William Rockhill Nelson, provision was made that upon the death of any stockholder or if any stockholder severed connections with the organization, his stock would go back to the company to be distributed to other stockholders.

Insurance amounting to $820,000 was carried on Kirkwood's life, made out to stockholders of the Kansas City Star company, proportionate to the amount of stock held by each, the amount to be applied to purchase of Kirkwood's stock in event of his death.

The funeral party was expected in Kansas City from Saratoga Springs Wednesday.

Messages of sympathy were received at the Star today from many prominent persons, including President Coolidge and Secretary Hoover.

NEGRO PREACHER CITES SCRIPTURE AGAINST ATLANTA DOOM

Atlanta will not be destroyed on August 31, 1927.

That declaration was made Monday afternoon by E. W. Dargatzis, a negro Baptist preacher, of the Sweet Home Baptist church, who stated that he was not a weather prophet, but just a negro Baptist preacher, who stays close enough to God, to be given information when events like that are to happen.

Read the second Epistle of Peter and in the first chapter and the 20th and 21st verse: "For the prophecy came not of old time by the will of man but holy men of God to speak as they were moved by the Holy Ghost," he said. Read the second chapter of the second Epistle of Peter in the first verse: "There were false prophets among the people also as there will be false teachers among you," he added.

OUTING ACCIDENTS CAUSE DEATHS OF 2 FLORIDIANS

Tampa, Fla., August 20.—(AP)—Death claimed two victims of outing accidents yesterday when Claude Worley, 15 years old, died from the effects of two broken vertebrae suffered while diving Friday and Hewitt R. Russell, 20, succumbed to burns received earlier in the week while on a camping trip.

Worley was injured when he dived into shallow water at Lake Tapanoosa near here. One vertebra was fractured near the base of the skull and another near the center of the spinal column. He is believed to have struck the springboard with his back.

Russell was burned when the gasoline camp stove exploded and sprayed him with burning oil. He ran three hundred feet to a lake but was fatally burned before the flames could be extinguished.

SEATTLE SEEKS 1928 CONVENTION OF U. S. LAWYERS

Seattle, August 20.—(AP)—A strong believer in the adage about the early bird, a one-man delegation from Seattle, Wash., inaugurated a drive tonight to bring the annual convention of the American Bar association to that city in 1928.

Despite reports that Memphis, Tenn., had lined up a strong delegation in its favor, Loren Grinstead, of Seattle, announced that he would conduct a spirited campaign in favor of the western city. The association held its convention there 20 years ago, he announced, and the city wished to bring it back for a 20th anniversary session.

50 PASSENGERS TAKEN BY CHINESE BANDITS

London, August 20.—(AP)—The Evening News Tokyo correspondent says the bold bandit exploit of recent years was staged over the week-end when a gang held up a train east of the Japanese capital, shooting the members of the crew and all others who resisted.

Fifty passengers were captured and held for ransom. Special trains bearing troops have been ordered to the vicinity.

Club Meets Today.

U. S., CANADA DISCUSS BORDER SMUGGLING

Washington, August 20.—(AP)—The opinion of American officials on suppressing law violations along the international boundary was obtained today by the Royal Canadian commission on customs at a conference with representatives of the state, treasury and justice departments. Another meeting will be held tomorrow.

The discussions were arranged at the request of the Canadian commission so it might gather first-hand information on the operation of the American customs service. Advisability of establishing Canadian consular agents in this country was discussed today along with that of a reduction in the number of Canadian ports of entry and consolidation of three stations with those maintained by the American government.

The representatives of the coast guard, customs and prohibition services of the Washington government have placed their information, experience and resources at the disposal of the commission, but are not prepared or empowered to make any agreements.

The question of liquor smuggling occupies a relatively unimportant part of the conferences. Assistant Secretary Lowman, in charge of prohibition, a customs and coast guard enforcement, said at the close of the discussion that the smuggling of alcohol into Canada by American bootleggers who undersell the local market and importation of ale and beer from Canada through Buffalo and Detroit, are on the program for discussion tomorrow.

$20,000 FINE IS SEEN FOR RADIO STATION

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Washington, August 20.—W. K. Henderson, owner of radio station KWKH, in Shreveport, La., charged with persistently exceeding the power limit fixed in his station's operating permit, faces a $20,000 fine in the first proceedings to be brought under the recently enacted radio law, it was announced by the federal radio commission today.

The record of the commission's investigation containing Henderson's admission that KWKH, limited to 1,000 watts, actually used 3,000 watts for 40 days, was forwarded to a department of justice today with the commission's request that proceedings against him be instituted in a Louisiana federal district court.

Under the radio act of 1927 Henderson, if convicted, may be fined a maximum of $20,000—$500 for each of the days on which his station jumped its 1,000-watt power assignment.

Forty-six stations throughout the country, whose 60-day operating permits expired on August 15 and who have not yet sought to have them renewed for another 60-day period, were notified by the commission today that September 6 has been set as the deadline for the receipt of renewal applications.

Dahonega College Wins High Honor At Camp McClellan

Dahonega, Ga., August 20.—(Special.)—The R. O. T. C. students of the North Georgia Agricultural college, who attended the reserve officers' training camp at Camp McClellan, Ala., this summer, won distinction for their college. As the result of their attendance at the camp the college was rated first in discipline in comparison with the colleges and universities of the eight southeastern states comprising the Fourth Corps area.

The students of the various colleges were intermingled in the R. O. T. C. companies of the camp and were rated daily by regular army officers with knowledge of the college attended by the students. At the end of the camp a special board consolidated the final grade of the students by college to find the standing of the colleges in the matter. The Dahonega college received the highest rating.

This college is one of the essentially military colleges of the United States, being in the class with the Virginia Military institute and The Citadel. General Robert E. Lee Bulard, recently married in New York, was at one time its commandant.

William Swann Dies While Visiting His Daughter at Griffin

Griffin, Ga., August 20.—(Special.) Funeral services for William Swann, 80, Confederate veteran who died last Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. F. Whitley, were held from Mrs. Whitley's home Monday afternoon. Rev. S. R. England, of Thomaston, officiated, assisted by the Rev. L. M. Latimer, of Griffin. The body was carried to Marshall, Texas, for interment.

Mr. Swann, who formerly lived in Griffin and is well known throughout this section, had been living in the Texas city for the past few years. He came to Griffin two months ago to visit Mrs. Whitley and while here was stricken with his fatal illness. He passed during the night between the States and was in the battles of Atlanta and Jonesboro and other major engagements. He was a member of the Baptist church and a Mason.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sally Potts Swann; two daughters, Mrs. Whitley and Mrs. L. M. Palmer, of Louisville, Texas; one son, J. Swann, of Los Angeles, Cal.; four sisters, Mrs. Nanny Taylor, Mrs. S. R. Howard, of Barnesville, Mrs. W. R. Berry, of Slidell, Texas; Mrs. Doris Bray, of Winter Garden, Fla., and one brother, George Swann, of Macon.

DRUGGISTS TURN TO PREVENTIVES FOR BIG TRADE

Washington, August 20.—(United News)—Druggists have been paying too much attention to sick customers and not enough to the potential healthy ones, says Samuel L. Hilton, druggist, chairman of the building committee of the American Pharmaceutical association, which is to erect a half-million-dollar building here to teach health to the nation. The drug trade is going in heavily for preventive medicine.

"Eighty-five per cent of the American people are well," Hilton says. "Only 15 per cent are sick. Herefore our business has been selling cures to the 15 per cent while we've neglected the 85 per cent. Our research staff will attempt to reach this 85 per cent with health education through newspapers and drug stores."

TAMPA EDITORS GET JAIL TERM

Tampa, Fla., August 20.—(AP)—Conviction and sentence of the first two defendants today pried the lid off what officers said was to be a "clean up" of the celebrated Key club case.

Without the showing of pictures which Municipal Judge Stalaker had said might be used in the trial of men involved in the case, B. Z. Angly, city editor and John L. Hackney, assistant city editor of the Tampa Daily Times were found guilty of having conspired to violate the city ordinance pertaining to prohibition and were sentenced to ten days in the city stockade. Four days was allowed the defense to prepare an appeal.

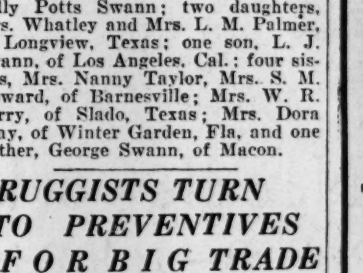

Trial of the two newspaper men resolved itself into an attack on the methods of the arresting officers and an attempt by the defense to show that the arrest case as a result of newspaper publicity attending the "Key Club" case.

Witnesses for the defense testified that Lawrence Ponder, one of the officers making the raid on the club last July, had told them that he did not want to make the arrests because he always had worked with newspaper men but that it was necessary because of the articles that had been appearing about the case.

Ponder, on the stand, emphatically denied ever having made such statements and characterized them as "all lies."

Efforts of defense attorneys to show that the arrests had been ordered by Municipal Judge Stalaker were contradicted by Ponder and Myers who testified that they had not received orders from Judge Stalaker to make the arrests. Defense witnesses said that Myers had told the chief of police in their presence that "the judge ordered the arrests."

Cueto's Blow Scores Three In 1st Frame

Seventh Inning Sees Five Runs Scored by Atlantans—Off Day Today.

Birmingham, Ala., August 29.—
(Special)—Atlanta's Crackers have no respect for superiority. At least they didn't today and scored three runs in the first inning and five in the seventh inning to win a nine-inning nightmare from the league leading Barons at Rickwood this afternoon by a score of 8 to 2.

Tomorrow the Crackers will have a chance to talk it over and decide what can be done against the Pelicans when the two open up a series in Atlanta on Wednesday, for Tuesday is a day of rest for Bert Niehoff's boys.

Cueto Scores Two Runs.
Manuel Cueto, clouted himself a triple in the first inning of today's embroglio to score two men ahead of him. He himself scored a few minutes later on a wild pitch.

That inning was mild compared to the seventh. The seventh was terrible. Bases were jammed upon numerous occasions. There were plenty Atlanta batsmen walked, there were wild

Rogers singled to open the seventh frame. Zoeller beat out a slow roller to second, Rogers stopping at the keystone. In an attempt to catch Rogers off second, he went to third when Ballenger dropped Gillis' throw. Gilbert singled to center, scoring Rogers. Cooper threw wild to and Gilbert and Rhief scored. Cueto went to third. Brock bunted to Hilton and was out, Hilton to Jourdan. Cueto scored. Kohlbecker tripped to deep center, but was out at the plate, Barnes to Gillis to Cooper.

The Barons scored their first run in the opening inning when Gillis bounced a single off Rogers' glove after Ballenger had been called out on strikes. Gillis went to second on a wild pitch by the Crackers hurler and scored when Ganzel poked a single to right. Bigelow and Cooper were easy outs.

Birmingham's second and last counter came in the fourth inning. Barnes beat out a high bouncer over Rogers' head. Jourdan lined to Zoeller, who made a long running one-handed stab, robbing Jourdan of a

SKINNY MEN

SKINNY MEN

Pay Nothing

Daily the letters pour in telling how Ironized Yeast has put on 5 to 15 pounds of good, solid flesh in 3 weeks. Has built up strength in nervous, tired people. Has cleared skins of ugly pimples and boils.

What Is the Magic

is two tonics in one—weight-
building Yeast
and strengthening Iron. The yeast is the same used in making malt, and which makes malt so beneficial. It is specially cultured yeast, concentrated to give the utmost in flesh-producing spinach, lettuce and celery. In this form Iron is easily assimilated by the body, making rich, red blood and toning up nerves and muscles.

Only when Yeast is Ironized in this way is it more effective—for Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building values of Yeast. By this special formula Ironized Yeast gives you results in half the time required by yeast or iron taken separately.

Try it on "Money-Back" Offer

CAUTION! While the amazing health-building value of IRONIZED YEAST tablets has been clearly and positively demon-trated in cases of lack of energy, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion, and a generally weakened physical and mental condition, IRONIZED YEAST should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to having weight increased to normal.

H. P. THOMAS AND WIFE BURIED AT CLIMAX, GA.

Funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Thomas, who were found shot to death early Sunday morning at their residence, 1000 St. Charles avenue, were held Monday at Climax, Ga., the birthplace of Mrs. Thomas.

A verdict of homicide and suicide was returned in the verdict of the coroner's jury investigating the deaths Sunday. Mr. Thomas had been an auditor for the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company for 20 years.

An insight into the possible motive of the double killing was furnished by James K. Jordan, life-long friend and attorney of the Thomas family, who stated that Mr. Thomas had been in bad health for some time and was worried by fears that he would not survive an operation necessary for him to undergo. Mr. Thomas drew his will last week, leaving all his possessions to his wife. He had all his affairs in good order at the time of his death, the attorney said.

Neighbors were awakened by a series of shots from the Thomas home Sunday morning. They notified the police, who found the bodies of the couple on the floor of the bedroom, beside a pool of blood.

Mr. Thomas is survived by his mother, Mrs. Sara P. Thomas, a brother, W. C. Thomas, and a sister, Mrs. D. W. Brannen. Mrs. Thomas leaves a father, Duncan Curry, of Climax.

DOUBLE INTERMENT HELD AT CLIMAX.
Bainbridge, Ga., August 29.—(Special.)—A double funeral was held Sunday morning at the home of Mrs. Henry Thomas, who died in Atlanta Sunday morning from shots fired by the husband, according to news of the tragedy reaching Bainbridge Sunday.

The bodies were met at the train by a large number of friends and the aged father of Mrs. Thomas, Duncan Curry, of Climax, and were taken directly to Oak City cemetery for interment. Rev. J. E. Ward of the Bainbridge First Presbyterian church, officiated.

Mrs. Thomas is survived by her father and a young nephew. The Curry family is one of the most prominent of Decatur county.

MRS. EMMA DEATZ FUNERAL SERVICES TO BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma L. Deatz, of 846 Euclid avenue, N. E., wife of E. L. Deatz, superintendent of the cable department of the local Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company, who died Sunday afternoon at a private hospital, will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the chapel of J. Austin Dillon company.

The Rev. Wallace Rogers will officiate and interment will be in West View cemetery. The Martha chapter, No. 128, O. E. S., of which she was a member, will have charge of the services at the graveside.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Deatz is survived by a daughter, Mrs. R. H. Darling; two sons, James and Arthur; a sister, Mrs. S. L. Dyke, and two brothers, N. C. and V. S. Odell.

AUTOS COLLIDE,
ONE SKIDS, KILLS
80-YEAR WOMAN

Mobile, Ala., August 29.—(P.)—Crushed under a hurtling car, knocked to the sidewalk by the impact of collision with a second automobile, Mrs. Rosa McHugh, aged 80 years, died 10 minutes later. Miss McHugh stood near an intersection when an automobile turning from an approaching car and knocked it to the sidewalk. As a result of the accident Mrs. T. J. Britton, of Lakeland, Fla., was held for reckless driving.

36 ARE REPORTED
KILLED BY HEAVY
RAINS IN JAPAN

Tokyo, Japan, August 29.—(P.)—Be-lated dispatches to the venacular newspapers today reported a heavy rainstorm Saturday at Kochi, on Shikoku, one of the four large islands of Japan, as a consequence of which 36 persons lost their lives. Numerous persons are believed to be missing, many were hurt, houses, bridges and roads were washed away and communications interrupted.

Reports from Nagasaki show that district also was flooded, 16 persons being killed and 20 injured. Houses were washed away and farms in the country districts were inundated.

ENGINEER ENDS
HIS LIFE FOR LOVE
IN MIAMI ROOM

Miami, Fla., August 29.—(P.)—Edward J. Powers, 32, stationary engineer, formerly of Cincinnati, shot and killed himself in his room early this morning. Roomers who heard a shot shortly past midnight, found this note alongside the body:

"Dear Sweetheart Arizona: If I am unable to talk when you find me, I did it because I loved you, but you wanted to love me. Your wanted-to-be sweetheart, Eddie."

Verdict of suicide was returned by a coroner's jury.

BUFOOD SCHOOLS TO OPEN WEDNESDAY

Buford, Ga., August 29.—(Special.)—Buford public schools will begin the 1927 fall term on Wednesday, August 31.

Professor W. N. Nunn, who has been superintendent of the public schools of this place for the past 18 years, and has seen the school grow from a matriculation of less than 200 students to over 700, announced this week that he was expecting the term this fall to break all records.

The board of education has had all repairs needed at the school buildings made and have selected a faculty that gives promise of being the strongest ever to have been chosen by the school authorities.

CHARLESTON MAN BELIEVED KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Miami, Fla., August 29.—(P.)—Belief that Robert Strange French, 50, of Washington, D. C., and Charleston, S. C., general manager and secretary of the National League of Commission Merchants, who was found dead in his room in a hotel here today, died of injuries received in an automobile accident is advanced by police authorities.

The body was found by a hotel maid who told police she had started to arrange the room occupied by French when she discovered the body in the bathroom.

Hotel records show that French had checked in the hotel Sunday afternoon, requesting the services of a physician. "I have been hurt," he told the desk clerk. The name of a physician was given him but it is believed he died before being able to summon him.

An autopsy performed indicated that death may have resulted from cardiac trouble or from the result of an accident. The entire lower portion of French's body had been skinned and bruised and had bled freely.

WILLIAM J. TUCKER,
PIONEER J. M. HIGH
EMPLOYEE, PASSES

William Jordan Tucker, 70, of 363 Cooper street, S. W., connected with the J. M. High company for 45 years and well-known business man, died at 3 o'clock Monday morning at the residence.

Mr. Tucker was born in Valdosta, Ga., in 1857, of an old Georgia family. Coming to Atlanta in his youth, he entered the service of the High company, where he remained until he was 65. He has been affiliated with the Whitehall street street ever since and is known to a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Tucker is a member of the Royal Arcanum and Woodmen of the World. He took an active interest in church work, attending the Jackson Hill Baptist church.

In addition to his wife, Mrs. Esther Solomon Tucker, he is survived by his son, W. L. Tucker, of St. Louis, Mo.

BALTIMORE MAN
OF MOVING AUTO

Mobile, Ala., August 29.—(P.)—Stricken with a heart attack while driving his automobile today, William S. Tucker, 57, master of the Maryland and District of Columbia fourth degree Knights of Columbus, died at the wheel of his car.

The machine continued on and crashed into a telephone pole at Park circle. It was going at a moderate speed and was undamaged.

Mr. Tucker, who was one of the most prominent Catholic laymen in Maryland, was president and treasurer of the Aumen Machine company of Baltimore.

His widow, a son and a daughter survive him.

Fate and Luck Aid Passengers In Two Wrecks

Pittsburgh, August 29.—(P.)—Fate and luck were passengers on the Broadway limited, crack Pennsylvania flyer, as it sped through the central Pennsylvania mountain region early today.

Fate gained the upper hand near the Gallitzin tunnel, just outside Altoona, when on a sharp curve, one of the giant locomotives, hauling the club car and nine Pullmans, plunged from the rails and crashed to the foot of a 200-foot hill, a twisted mass of steel encasing the crushed bodies of two engineers. Then luck intervened and tonight, as passengers recounted their escape from death and injury they agreed "we were lucky."

A blanket of fog shrouded Pennington curve as the train, Pride of the Pennsylvanian, sped toward New York. As the lead locomotive came to the right bend in the rails, it jumped the tracks and plunged down a hill.

The second locomotive, which was suspended over the brink. The automatic coupler and pin on the rear of this Pullman held fast and the big steel car with its cargo of human life, remained balanced, on the hilltop.

Led by S. L. Smith, a passenger, of Racine, Wis., a rescue party descended the hill. With borrowed lanterns and the light cast by the wrecked locomotive's fire, which had been spilled on the hill-side, the party descended the ravine and pulled R. C. Spangler, the foreman, from the wreckage. "In order to get him to the top of the bank, it was necessary to stretch ropes similar to the way they are used by mountain climbers," said Smith. "Our work was futile; for Spangler died a short time after we got him out."

While railroad officials sought to learn the cause of the wreck, passengers hazarded a guess. Some believed high speed on a curve caused the locomotive to jump, while others believed a sudden application of the brakes was responsible.

In addition to Spangler, the engineer, C. L. Galt, was badly injured. Other trainmen, removed to an Altoona hospital, were reported in a serious condition.

C. C. NASH BADLY HURT IN HEAD-ON CRASH OF 2 AUTOS

C. C. Nash, of 396 Cherokee avenue, was taken to Grady hospital late Monday night in a serious condition, as the result of injuries received when an automobile he was driving was struck by a heavy sedan at Ormond and Hill streets, according to hospital reports.

As he was driving east on Ormond street, Nash reported, a large sedan going in the opposite direction attempted to make a left turn into Hill street, striking his car directly in the front. Nash's car was badly damaged, and the driver of the other car sped on without offering assistance. He is said to have had no rear light burning and police reported that they were unable to get the license number.

VISCOUNTESS ASTOR
MAY BE OUSTED
BY PARLIAMENT

London, August 29.—(P.)—The Plymouth correspondent of the Westminster Gazette says that a determined effort will be made to oust Viscountess Astor from her seat in the House of Lords. The viscountess represents the Sutton division of Plymouth in parliament. Not only have the liberal and labor parties selected candidates to oppose her, but the Conservative party has also announced that it has obtained a powerful candidate to oppose her. Thus Lady Astor will find opposition in her own party.

Viscountess Astor has held her seat since 1919. She was the first woman to sit in the imperial parliament.

E. J. STANLEY DIES AT LAWRENCEVILLE

Lawrenceville, Ga., August 29.—(Special.)—Funeral services over the body of E. J. Stanley, 77, who was held at his residence Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Stanley was one of the most progressive and industrious farmers in the county and resided four miles east of Lawrenceville.

He is survived by his wife, who, before her marriage, was Miss Rhoda Stanley, and the following children: Dolphus Stanley, of Windsor, Ga.; Carl, Henry, Mark and Lewis Stanley, of Miami; E. J. Stanley, Jr., of Miami; Mrs. M. C. Stanley, of Miami; Mrs. M. Stanley, of Miami; Mrs. S. L. Hinton, Mrs. Albert Craig, Lawrenceville; Mrs. C. S. Jewell, Mrs. Dora Ambrose, Mrs. Bona Allen, Dacula.

Rev. Venable, assisted by Rev. J. A. Reiser, conducted the funeral, which terminated in Pleasant Hill cemetery.

SWIMMING CONTESTS TO BE HELD IN ROME

Rome, Ga., August 29.—(Special.)—Swimming contests at the municipal pool will be a big feature of the Labor day program sponsored by the parks, playgrounds and athletic ground committee of the chamber of commerce with the assistance of the wholesale and retail trade group and the American Legion. Gold, silver and bronze medals donated by Rome business houses, will be given as first, second and third prizes in the various swimming events for juniors and midlets.

A committee will make a canvass of the industrial plants soon to see what interest there is in the athletic events at the fair grounds for Monday afternoon. Fireworks have already arrived for the entertainment Monday night at the fair grounds.

An elaborate program is being arranged for the entire day by various committees.

REV. L. M. LATIMER REMAINS AT GRIFFIN

Griffin, Ga., August 29.—(Special.)—Rev. L. M. Latimer, for several years pastor of the First Baptist church here, and one of the most beloved church workers ever to be in Griffin, told his congregation Sunday that he had declined the call from the First Baptist church at Murfreesboro, Tenn., to become its pastor.

SACCO-VAZZETTI TRIED FAIR

Buffalo, N. Y., August 29.—(P.)—Publicly announcing his official views on the Sacco-Vanzetti case for the first time since taking office, Attorney General Arthur C. Reading, of Massachusetts, today told the National Association of Attorneys General, in convention here, that giving publicity to the trial given the two principals was beyond question.

The cases should, however, be decided "on their merits," he declared. "It is the duty of the authorities of the several states the seriousness of some of our legal problems. The administration of our criminal law should not only be just; it should be prompt and expeditious, the rights of the individual charged with crime to be safeguarded but not at the expense of business victims or of the general public."

The names of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, Attorney General Reading asserted, undoubtedly had been seized upon by socialists, communists and anarchists, "as an opportunity to propagate their doctrines before the American public."

"I am of the very strong personal opinion," he said, "that the communists have been more interested in the propaganda and in giving publicity to their subversive theories than they have been in seeking to obtain the liberation of Sacco and Vanzetti."

"Fortunately, America does not offer fertile soil for bolshevistic ideas, and the campaign of vilification and misrepresentation has accomplished little."

SPANISH PAPER DEFENDS AMERICA.

Madrid, August 29.—(P.)—A spirited defense of the United States against attacks in connection with the Sacco-Vanzetti case, is made by a B. C. one of Spain's leading newspapers.

"The great democracy, a civilization of the first magnitude, a free progressive country with modern legislation," it says, "is suffering these calumnies. Such calumnies are a disgrace to the country and a reproach to the government. It is a pretense at revolution, an attempt to create a system of coercion in behalf of crime."

"It points out that there has been a 'perverse exploitation' of the case in carrying out the sentence after the trial, but says that the condemned men and their counsel were the ones who refused to fight this duty, which their sympathizers later characterized as inhuman and a reason for clemency."

LEVATHAN GUARDED AT ENGLISH PIER.

Southampton, Eng., August 29.—(P.)—A strong guard of police was placed on and around the United States liner Leviathan at her pier here today as a precaution, it is understood, against any untoward incidents in connection with the Sacco-Vanzetti case.

MORTUARY
Mrs. Ella Reutz, 61, of 505 Robinson avenue, died Monday night at the residence. She is survived by a son, V. E. Reutz, of Buford, S. C., and two sisters, Mrs. Anna Reutz, of Buford, S. C., and Mrs. J. E. Reutz, of Buford, S. C. Funeral and interment, J. Austin Dillon company in charge.

BRIDGE COMPLETED ON PIEDMONT ROAD

Buford, Ga., August 29.—(Special.)—Traffic over the Piedmont Air Line route from Atlanta to Buford, which has been held up on account of the rebuilding of the bridge over the Southern railway, near Suwanee, was resumed this week, the bridge having been completed.

A section of the Appalachian Scenic highway which has been closed for the past several weeks on account of paving being done by the Hall county commissioners was opened this week and travelers who come by Buford can continue along this route north of town to what is known as the Brown cross roads, where they detour by Roberts' cross roads and into Gainesville.

With moderately fair weather the Hall county commissioners hope to have this road completed by the first of September.
